

Small Business Leaders to Get Bids to Confabs With Roosevelt

President Wants Them Included in National Council

LABOR HEADS IRKED

Angered Over Suggestion of Public Financial Reports

Washington—(P)—A White House aid said today President Roosevelt would call in small business men soon in seeking cooperative methods of regularizing business and employment.

This was disclosed as the president put forward organization of a continuing, all-embracing council as a simple method of helping the administration formulate national economic policies. Mr. Roosevelt said the council should include small business men.

Thus far, a White House official noted, the presidential conferences have included only captains of industry and finance and labor leaders. He asserted that hundreds of letters had been received from smaller business men pointing to this requesting similar White House audiences.

As a result the president instructed aides today to go through a high stack of these letters, select at random a number of smaller corporate officials and call them in.

Labor Chiefs Angry

The president's suggestion that labor unions should make public their financial reports, although most of them defined "making public" as giving the statements to their members.

William Green, American Federation of Labor president, said the federation annually gave both its members and the press a "complete financial statement."

The A. F. of L. report is presented to its convention each autumn.

"I can say the same, too, for the United Mine Workers (CIO)," Green asserted.

Green was secretary-treasurer of John L. Lewis' union for many years before he became A. F. of L. chief.

Lewis Not Available

Lewis could not be reached for comment immediately, but his aids said every local union received a complete financial accounting from the national headquarters every six months. "This is down to the last dime," they added.

Regarding the president's suggestion about union financial statements, Green said that as far as he knew every union in the A. F. of L. makes public its financial statements. He said the A. F. of L. report summarized receipts and expenditures, including salaries, officers' expenses, administrative expenses and the like.

Harry Bates, sandy-haired president of the bricklayers union was incensed by the president's suggestion. He slapped a 98-page financial report of his union down on his desk and angrily said that every member of his union knew how every dollar was spent.

Consumers, investors, credit men, farmers, laborers, distributors, transportation men, financiers, and big and little business men—all these should have a voice, Mr. Roosevelt told 49 prominent industrialists last yesterday.

Stephen Early, White House secretary, emphasized this did not point to a revival of the NRA.

The president and his visitors, who compose Secretary Roper's business advisory council, harmoniously discussed broad proposals for stemming the recession. They met in the cabinet room next to the president's office lasted for 90 minutes.

The business council members, saying that the United States possesses all factors needed for prosperity, if they are put to use, told

4 More Individual Defendants Freed In U. S. Oil Case

Judge Still Has Other Motions for Acquittal Under Advisement

Madison—(P)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone released four more individual defendants in the government's gasoline price fixing case today, reducing to 32 the number of oil company executives and officials still on trial.

Judge Stone granted the dismissals in separate rulings on defense motions for directed verdicts of acquittal. As the final arguments to the jury preceded the court still had under advisement the motions to acquit the remaining 18 corporations and 32 individuals.

The four released today were: Dewey K. Chamberlain, Tulsa, Okla., manager of the Tulsa division of the Pure Oil company; Thomas Fitzgerald, Tulsa, assistant to the vice president in charge of sales, Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation; H. A. Gardner, Bartlesville, Okla., tank car sales manager, Phillips Petroleum company; C. M. Boggs, Kansas City, Kans., president of the Western Petroleum Refiners association—an independent organization. Boggs was the only independent indicted.

Chief Counsel's Argument

Chief Counsel William J. Donovan concluded the defense argument by asking the remaining individual defendants to rise, one by one, as he called their names.

He asked the jurors whether they thought these men would "sell their souls at any price," and requested them to say by their verdict as "the conscience of the nation," that "it is unthinkable that men should be punished for doing the very thing their government had asked them to do."

Doomed Couple Is Granted Reprieve

Acting Illinois Governor Stays Execution for One Week

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Acting Governor John Stelle announced today he had reprieved for one week the executions of Mrs. Marie Porter and Angelo Ralph Giancola, who were scheduled to die in the electric chair at Chester soon after midnight.

The lieutenant governor, acting as chief executive while Governor Horner is in Washington, said he granted the week's delay solely on the plea of Giancola's mother.

Governor Horner yesterday refused to grant clemency to Giancola and Mrs. Porter. If the execution is finally carried out, she will be the first woman legally executed in Illinois and the first executed since 1845.

The survey, directed to forty manufacturers, disclosed an 11 per cent decline in employment between September, 1937, and Jan. 1, 1938, Chester testified. He said this was paced by a 16 per cent decline in the number of hours worked.

Appleton will be districted into 18 wards, with 18 supervisors representing them on the county board, if the movement to give Appleton voters county board representation more nearly commensurate with their voting strength is approved at the election in April. Petitions asking the council to submit a charter ordinance creating 18 wards, with one alderman and one supervisor from each ward, have been placed in circulation.

Sponsors of the movement to increase the city's representation on the county board believe that the 1,700 signatures required to assure a referendum will be obtained without difficulty. They hope to file the petitions with the city clerk before the end of January.

The Appleton Central Civic League, which is the central organization of the various ward voters' club, has been active in sponsoring the movement and has won the support of a large number of men who are not members of the ward organizations. Preparations for circulation of the petitions have been going on for some time, an ordinance has been drafted and a map has been prepared to show the boundaries of the new wards.

One Alderman to a Ward

If the voters approve the ordinance, each of the 18 wards to be created will be represented by one alderman. The present six wards in the city are represented by two aldermen each. It is proposed to elect aldermen from even numbered wards in even numbered years, and aldermen from uneven numbered wards in uneven numbered years. This will result in the election of nine aldermen each year, and the terms remain at two years each.

The primary purpose of creating the new wards is to send more supervisors from Appleton to the

Suspect Slaying In Mystery Death

Officials Believe Victim Beaten, Thrown Down Dumbwaiter Shaft

New York—(P)—Authorities investigating the mysterious death of Rudolph Thompson, 41, wealthy sales executive, expressed belief today he had been beaten and thrown down the shaft of a five-story apartment dumbwaiter.

Thompson's body, the skull crushed, was found late yesterday at the bottom of the dumbwaiter by the superintendent of a west 81st street apartment building.

Theresa Darcy, 9, daughter of a tenant, told police she had been awakened at 4 a. m. by screams for help.

Assistant District Attorney Alfred J. Scott said marks on the body indicated that Thompson, a Yale graduate and member of a prominent Manhattan, Long Island, family, had been bludgeoned.

Rope burns on the hands, police said, showed also that Thompson had been conscious when he plunged headfirst down the shaft and attempted vainly to check his fall by clawing at the dumbwaiter ropes.

Thompson's coat and hat and a second overcoat were found beside the body. Executives of the manufacturing firm which employed him said a wrist watch he usually wore was missing.

The police inquiry centered on Thompson's activities Tuesday night. He was estranged from his wife and lived at a midtown hotel.

Two Seamen Lost When Vessel Battles Storm

Hamilton, Bermuda—A Battle Between the American Freighter Effingham and raging seas in which two American seamen were lost

Hamilton, Bermuda—(P)—A battle between the American freighter Effingham and raging seas in which two American seamen were lost was recounted here today after the battered vessel arrived at St. George's harbor.

With the radio cabin washed away by seas rolling under a 100-mile-an-hour gale, the ship was unable to call for help. Lifelines were smashed, a ton-and-a-half which was swept from its base and lodged against a mast and deck plates buckled.

The seamen lost were identified as Comer Barrett, 36, from Georgia, and Lucio N. Viglione, 27, of Lawrence, Mass. The Effingham carried a crew of 32.

Barrett and Viglione were trying to secure the funnel when a wave hurled them overboard.

Doubts U. S. Will Recover CCC False Voucher Funds

Washington—(P)—E. K. Burelew, administrative assistant to Secretary Jakes, told a senate committee today the government probably would not recover $84,000 of civilian conservation corps funds obtained by an interior department employee on false vouchers.

Burelew testified before the senate public lands committee that Reno Sittely, former chief of the disbursing room of the national park service who has pleaded guilty to nine charges brought in connection with his acquisition of the funds, had not been required under the law to post bond in order to hold the disbursing office.

Justice Joseph W. Cox of the federal district court is scheduled to impose sentence on Sittely tomorrow.

City Council Approves Wage Restorations

Votes 8 to 4 to Raise Salaries of Officials, Firemen and Policemen

VETO IS EXPECTED

Accepts County Board's $25,000 Offer to Aid Paving Program

What Council Did:

Passed 1938 salary ordinance giving 25 per cent restoration of pay cuts of fire and police department members and a number of city officials by an 8 to 4 vote.

Voted to accept county board's $25,000 offer to help pay costs of paving a number of Fourth ward streets.

Authorized city clerk to advertise for bids on two new squad cars for police department.

Ordered publication of a proposed ordinance regulating registration of bicycles.

Passed amendment to "hit and run" section of general city ordinances.

Awarded contracts to audit books of the city clerk and city treasurer to Willard Schenck on a bid of $360.

Approved sanitary sewer projects on Carpenter and Roosevelt streets.

Aldermen at last night's meeting passed the 1938 salary ordinance giving firemen, policemen and a number of city officials 25 per cent restoration of pay cuts given in 1930.

Eight members of the council, Aldermen Steinhauer, Harriman, Keller, Knutli, Brautman, McGillan, Kubitz and Frankel, voted to pass the ordinance while four, Aldermen DeLand, Thompson, Grignon and Vanderheyden opposed its passage.

Although Mayor Goodland was silent last night, it is understood in city hall that he opposes salary boosts at this time and he is expected to veto the ordinance as drawn and published. Under the veto, the mayor has five days in which the exercise his right of veto. Nine votes are needed to override the mayor's veto.

The increase in wages represents the first since the cut for some of the city officials and the second for firemen and policemen who were given a 50 per cent restoration last year. The total wage adjustment involving 67 officials and employees will amount to $4,993.90 per year and will mean an increase of about 11 cents per $1,000 on the tax rate.

Under the ordinance, salary boosts for elective and appointive officials

Water Diversion Plan Foes Granted Delay

Washington—(P)—Foes of the Chicago water diversion plan were granted a delay yesterday until Feb. 15, by the house rivers and harbors committee in which to pass their case against the Parsons bill to authorize diversion of an annual average of 5,000 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan.

Attorneys general of lakes states, including Minnesota, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York, had demanded a 60 day postponement.

The committee, in executive session, decided proponents of the bill would be heard starting tomorrow with William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson, former Chicago mayor, and James Igoe, Chicago, the first witnesses.

No limit was set on the length of time in which opponents of the water diversion would be given in which to present their case. The supreme court has ruled that effective Dec. 31, 1938, the Chicago sanitary district would be limited to not more than 1,600 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan.

Egyptian King Married in Moslem Ceremony but Bride Is Not Present

Cairo, Egypt—(P)—Egypt's boy King Farouk took dark-eyed 16-year old Farida as his wife and queen today in an orthodox Moslem ceremony which the bride did not attend.

But Farida, daughter of an Egyptian high court judge, excluded from the ceremony by Moslem custom, watched it through a lattice-work partition from an adjoining room of the ancient Koubbeh palace.

The marriage contract was signed at 11 a. m. (3 a. m. C. S. T.) and guns of the ancient citadel and others throughout the country crashed in royal salute to tell joyful Egyptians their king was wed. Farida's father and the bridegroom signed the Moslem contract

Dinneen Ill; Hearing Off Until Jan. 31

Recess Is Granted at Request of Special Counsel

TELLS ABOUT FUNDS

Former Commission Secretary Was 'Go-Between' In Utility Sale

Madison—(P)—Hearing before the Dane county income tax review board on the appeal of William M. Dinneen, former secretary of the state public service commission, from an assessment of about $60,000 on alleged unreported income, was adjourned today until Jan. 31 because of the illness of Dinneen.

Attorney William Spohn, special counsel conducting an investigation of Dinneen's income for the years 1934-36, told the board this morning that Dinneen was suffering from a throat infection and had spent a restless night following five hours on the witness stand.

Although Spohn formally requested the recess, Dinneen's attorney, William R. Cirkoot, added a plea that his client be given a rest. Dinneen was present and told board members he was running a temperature.

Speaks With Difficulty

The former commission secretary, whose job was abolished by the 1937 reorganization bill, appeared to be under great strain during the two sessions held in the courthouse yesterday. He spoke with difficulty, and frequently was called upon to repeat his answers.

The state is seeking to collect $60,000 from Dinneen in income of about $283,000 and an additional $15,000 from Mrs. Dinneen on an alleged unreported income of about $115,000. Spohn declared today to proceed with Mrs. Dinneen's appeal until her husband's case has been completed.

Dinneen testified yesterday that during the years covered by the assessment he received from agents of the Hyllesby Engineering and Development company, a utility holding firm, loans and gifts totaling $33,500 and that he did not report them as income on his state tax returns.

Had Large Sums

Spohn covered Dinneen's banking affairs for the period 1923-28 in yesterday's examination, repeatedly drawing from the witness admission

Declares Rate Boost Would Burden Farmer

Washington—(P)—Chicago meat packers and representatives of Western livestock producers and markets told the interstate commerce commission today that farmers would have to bear the costs of a proposed 15 per cent increase in railroad freight rates.

George E. Putnam economist for Swift and company declared the increase would add $15,000,000 to transportation charges on meat and byproducts and would "consequently reduce by that amount the revenue which farmers get from their livestock."

The public, he contended, would not stand for higher meat prices.

Endorsing previous testimony by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace Putnam estimated that the loss to farm income from the rate increase might run as high as $50,000,000.

46 Believed Dead in Fire; Find 26 Bodies

St. Hyacinthe—(Canadian Press)—Officials of the College of the Sacred Heart counted 46 of its teachers and students as dead today in the fire which leveled the 37-year-old brick building early Tuesday.

The bodies of only 26 victims, however, had been recovered from the wreckage, all that remained of the structure in which more than 100 persons had been trapped in their sleep.

Fire Damages Apartment Building in Milwaukee

Milwaukee—(P)—Firemen fought for more than an hour and a half today to subdue a blaze in an apartment building which caused an estimated damage of $10,000 to $20,000. One woman broke her leg in leaving the dwelling. Two babies were carried to safety. Nine of the building's 28 apartments were damaged by the fire, and many of the others were affected by the smoke.

G-Men Visit Superior With Two Prisoners In Kidnaping Mystery

Report Insurgent Warships Seize American Vessel

French and U. S. Naval Authorities Seeking Full Details

London—(P)—Dispatches to Lloyd's from Tarragona said the British freighter Thorpe was badly damaged and several of her crew killed today in an insurgent air raid on that Spanish government, seaport, southwest of Barcelona.

Paris—(P)—French and American naval authorities today sought details of the reported seizure of an American oil tanker by two Spanish insurgent war vessels off Barcelona.

The French naval ministry said the French destroyer Vauquelin reported the tanker Nantucket Chief was steaming toward Palma, on insurgent Mallorca, Tuesday.

The Vauquelin sighted the tanker, formerly named the Gulflight, and the insurgent gubboats in the Mediterranean, 50 miles north of the Balearic islands, which include Mallorca.

The Vauquelin's message confirmed that the Nantucket Chief was flying the American flag and declared she had an American crew.

The Nantucket Chief was reported reliably to have been carrying a cargo of oil from Tuapse, Russian Black sea port, to Barcelona, government Spain.

Place Not Determined

Both the French navy ministry and the American embassy said it was not determined whether the ship was seized within Spanish territorial waters.

A navy ministry spokesman said the French were "investigating" and the United States naval attaché's office said it was seeking details and that Washington had been informed.

(Lloyd's of London said the Nantucket Chief was enroute from the Black sea to Barcelona, and left Istanbul Jan. 11. The marine underwriters had no heard of the capture, and the British admiralty also lacked information.)

(In Houston, Texas, L. C. Walsh, representative of the Nantucket Steamship company, said their London agent arranged for the tanker's cargo and that "we do not know what her cargo was or her destination.")

Insurgent sources in Paris professed lack of information of the reported capture but said it was "the logical fate of any ship that tries to break the blockade" of government ports set up by Spanish insurgents.

RESIGNS OFFICE

Washington—(P)—The White House announced today the resignation of J. F. T. O'Connor as comptroller of the currency, and said President Roosevelt had asked that it not take effect until April 1.

O'Connor, Los Angeles attorney, is expected to run for the Democratic nomination for governor of California in the August primaries.

O'Connor reviewed at length the banking crisis of the Roosevelt first term. He declared the "banking structure of the nation was never on a more solid basis than it is today."

Reed Nomination Is Given Approval Of Subcommittee

Full Senate Committee to Consider Appointment Next Monday

Washington—(P)—A senate judiciary subcommittee voted unanimously approval today of the nomination of Stanley F. Reed to be a justice of the supreme court.

The vote was taken immediately after the committee concluded a brief hearing on Reed's qualifications.

Senator Logan (D-Ky) said there was no discussion of Reed's qualifications by the committee members.

The brief hearing was attended by Reed, now solicitor general, and Attorney General Cummings.

The attorney general praised Reed's legal ability and said the nomination of the 53-year-old Kentuckian was a "great personal satisfaction."

In Committee Monday

The judiciary subcommittee will put the nomination of the solicitor general before the full judiciary committee Monday. Prompt approval was expected and final senate confirmation was slated for early next week.

Immediate senate confirmation would enable Reed to take his seat just a week after the retirement of Associate Justice George Sutherland, 75.

The name of Robert H. Jackson bobbed up in speculation over Reed's possible successor as solicitor general.

Jackson, now head of the justice department's anti-trust division, has been a leader in the administration's campaign against monopolies.

Bolles Says 'Small City'

Daily Hope of Free Press

Toronto, Canada—(Canadian Press)—The small city daily newspaper is "the hope and salvation of a free press," Stephen Bolles, editor of the Janesville, Wis. Gazette, yesterday told the Ontario Provincial Dailies association.

The metropolitan daily, with greater resources and circulation, "loses that human quality which belongs to the smaller city daily newspaper exclusively," the editor said.

Critics who try to classify all papers under the objections held against the metropolitan press, he said, "forget the wide power of the majority of the press, clean, honest, clear—the genuine free press printed in the little cities. This is the free press of the United States and Canada."

Chautemps Wins First Tilt in Labor Strife

Paris—(P)—Premier Camille Chautemps and his newly-formed government won the first step today in efforts to arbitrate recurring labor disputes.

Paris truck drivers and employers agreed in principle an average 81 per cent wage increase, to meet increased living costs. The truckmen struck Dec. 23, and still held possession of a number of garages today. Employers demanded their evacuation before the final agreement was signed.

The premier, meanwhile, completed an outline of his declaration of government policy to be submitted to the full cabinet this afternoon.

Hoover and 6 Aids Stop At Hotel With Manned Men

PAIR UNIDENTIFIED

Officials Refuse to Give Information on Developments

St. Paul—(P)—Some of the mystery surrounding a trip out of St. Paul yesterday by federal agents who brought Peter Anders, confessed Charles S. Ross kidnaper here Tuesday night, was cleared up today with word that J. Edgar Hoover, federal bureau of investigation chief, six associates and two prisoners had spent last night in Superior, Wis.

The identity of the prisoners still was in doubt, however. Donald MacRae, manager of the hotel where the group stayed, said one of them resembled photographs of Anders, but a tray still was being taken to bureau headquarters here at mealtime. Watchers who had been seen since he was brought here. There was some speculation that a new arrest, possibly two, had been made in the Superior area.

In Superior Hoover announced he was returning to St. Paul. He was expected here this afternoon.

Edward F. Guinane, local F.B.I. chief, declined to amplify his statement of last night that there would be no announcement before afternoon. He would not discuss the case otherwise.

Secrecy Rules

Cloaking every move in strictest secrecy, Hoover and his federal bureau of investigation agents today pushed their efforts to complete their kidnap-killing case against Anders.

Anders was quoted by Hoover as confessing abducting and slaying Charles S. Ross, Chicago, and also killing J. Atwood Gray, who aided in the abduction.

Brought here from Los Angeles under heavy guard in a surprise airplane flight Tuesday night, Anders was lodged in the F. B. I. office and has not been seen by any but federal agents since. Trays of food were taken into the office three times yesterday, and a strong force of agents was on hand at all times, but no further sign of the prisoner's whereabouts was given.

Nor has Hoover been in public since, shortly after his arrival with the prisoner, he retired to a hotel.

Airliner Waits

The airliner in which the F. B. I. chief, the guards and the prisoner arrived, stood in a hangar at the municipal airport, fueled and ready for flight on short notice.

Early today Edward F. Guinane, head of the F. B. I. office here, indicated Anders would be kept here at least until this afternoon, although he declined to specify that his announcement referred to the kidnap suspect.

There will be "no announcement" regarding "movement of federal prisoners," he said, adding that reporters keeping watch at the bureau "can go home now without missing anything." He said Hoover authorized the announcement, but refused to say whether the chief was still there.

Ready for Action

The F. B. I. office sprang into feverish activity as soon as Hoover and Anders arrived, but watchers could gain no hint of what was being done. Carloads of men, some dressed in heavy clothing and some carrying tools for digging, sped away from the building yesterday, and none was seen to return. The activity gave rise to speculations the agents may have left to search

Tennessee Bishop Orders Removal of Fasting Minister

Memphis, Tenn.—Bishop James M. Maxon ordered the removal of fasting Dean Israel Harding Noe today.

The bishop recovering from a serious illness, sent a lengthy written communication to the deanery today in which he notified the clergyman he was "taking over" the duties of St. Mary's Episcopal cathedral.

This step had been pending for several days by some leaders of the church. It came at a time when the dean apparently was getting much weaker.

The dean, fasting to prove the fact of immortality, made no immediate comment.

Bishop Maxon wrote: "I regret to advise that it is convincingly evident to me that you must be removed as dean of St. Mary's cathedral. This removal will take place at once. However, your stipend will continue for the next six months and you will be permitted to occupy the deanery for that period."

The bishop's message besought Dean Noe to discontinue the fast which has been broken only by communion since Jan. 2. All last year, Dean Noe said, he lived on oranges alone.

Crowley Outlines Set of Standards At Bankers' Meet

Urges State Association to 'Strengthen and Preserve' System

Milwaukee—(AP)—Leo T. Crowley outlined a set of standards for bankers today and urged their whole-hearted support of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation's efforts to strengthen the banking system as it now exists and so to preserve it.

The FDIC chairman, addressing the Wisconsin Bankers' association's mid-winter meeting, said the "transition period" since Jan. 1, 1934, has brought the nation's banking system "to a basically improved position," but warned it would be "fatal to assume our task is done."

"We must continue alert and strive for continuous improvement," he declared. "We must attempt to anticipate developments affecting our individual institutions as well as those which will react upon the entire banking system. We must in short, face our responsibilities."

Safety Chief Goal

"Attainment and maintenance of a sound banking system are to the mutual advantage of bankers and of supervisors. Both have the same goal, safety for depositors. The (FDI) corporation does not intend to shirk its responsibilities for attainment of this goal. It expects that bankers shall give primacy to the safety of depositors and shall subordinate the interests of stockholders and borrowers."

Increased attention to "improving the quality of bank assets as well as to the problem of bank capital."

Progressive acquisition of high-grade, acceptable assets to build a satisfactory security portfolio and "a relatively risk-proof note pouch."

Institution of satisfactory beginning capital requirements for new banks.

Maintenance, by "going" institutions, of a "satisfactory ratio of capital funds to total assets so that ordinary fluctuations in the value of assets will not result in impairment or insolvency."

Larger Capital

Regular and sizable additions by banks to their capital funds out of earnings before payment of dividends.

Close study of the chances for success before chartering new banks.

Thought, by bankers, of earnings in terms of net profits after elimination of losses before venturing into new types of earning assets about which they know little or nothing.

Steady improvement in bank management.

Firm enforcement, by supervisors, of sound banking practices.

Acquisition, by bankers, of greater knowledge of the credit standing of institutions whose securities they hold.

Discussing the latter point, Crowley said:

"When circumstances bring about falling security markets it is always the border-line and low grade issues which fall farthest. As a consequence banks which are overextended in issues of this type can find their capital seriously impaired or completely wiped out in an amazingly short time. The elimination of border-line and sub-standard securities should be a continuous aim."

Coalitionists Will Formulate Party Platform

Republican-Democrat Combine to Meet at Stevens Point

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—The state's Republican-Democratic coalition organization, which to date has been the subject of high praise and unmitigated criticism, will meet at Stevens Point Saturday to complete a state-wide organization and to formulate a set of principles which it will submit to the Wisconsin electorate in the fall campaign six months from now.

James J. Kerwin, leader of the coalition forces, announced Tuesday that the platform meeting, postponed successively since early January, would definitely be held Saturday, beginning at 9:30 in the morning.

Biggest business for the meeting, he said, will be the formulation of a set of principles on which coalition candidates will make their bids for state office next fall. Machinery will also be organized to carry the coalition campaign throughout the state, and into the local balliwick of every important county, he continued.

The matter of candidates, Kerwin emphasized, will not be discussed formally at the meeting, but it is unlikely, observers pointed out today, that the politicians who gather Saturday will refrain from informal discussions of that interesting subject. In fact, it is pretty generally known that there are several ambitious aspirants already in the field for the coalition endorsement for governor.

Committee Of 70

The meeting will be open only to the executive committee of 70, representing men and women of both the Republican and Democratic parties from each of the ten congressional districts, and a half dozen who have been sent special invitations, according to Kerwin.

Principal job of the meeting, it was said, "will be to give the people an indication of what we stand for and what we hope to achieve."

Whether the coalition attempt, long in the making, will have any substantial effect in the state elections this year is still unknown. Observers point out that the Saturday meeting probably will afford an indication of the support of the idea in the state. Basically, to date at least, the movement has been an anti-LaFollette movement. Leaders of the faction are anxious to remove from the state the LaFollette Progressive machine, which not only controls both the legislative and administrative branches of the state government.

French Dropped From Curriculum

Study to Be Terminated as Result of Decreased Enrollments

French will be dropped from the high school curriculum next year as the result of action taken by the board of education at Lincoln school last night upon recommendation of Herbert H. Hebble, high school principal, who said French class enrollments were steadily decreasing.

A second year course for students enrolled in the first year course this year will be offered in order to complete their credits.

The resignation of David Bent, Jr., biology instructor at the high school the last four years, was accepted. Mr. Bent stated he had been offered a position carrying a large increase in salary and expected to leave in March.

A report of the committee of the school providing that Smith and Brandt be engaged to draw plans for necessary remodeling at the old high school and application be made for improving the grounds at the new senior high school as a WPA project was approved by the board.

Today's Radio Highlights

Employment in City Decreased During November

Pay Rolls Also Show Drop For Month From Similar Period in 1936

Employment in Appleton establishments was 1.7 per cent lower in November 1937 than in November 1936, and corresponding pay rolls were 8.6 per cent lower in November of 1937 than the same month of the preceding year, according to a report of the state industrial commission.

Sixty-three establishments in the city reported 3,868 employees on pay rolls with total salaries amounting to $84,379. The average weekly earnings per worker amounted to $21.81 as compared to $23.44 in October.

Employment in Kaukauna increased 4.3 per cent in November over the same month of the preceding year. The average weekly wage of the 97 employees reported by four establishments was $22.85. Sixteen Menasha firms reported 1,876 employees earning an average weekly wage of $24.07. The November employment decrease from November of 1936 was 2.3 per cent while the pay rolls decreased 7.1 per cent for the same period.

Neenah employment showed a gain of 9 per cent for the period while the pay rolls decreased 1 per cent. The average weekly wage was $27.36 for the 18 establishments reporting.

Lower Levels
Appleton manufacturing firms also showed decreases in November 1937 from November 1936, the report reveals. The per cent of decrease in employment was 2.1 and in pay rolls 10.7. The average hourly earnings was 57.7 cent per hour for the 32 manufacturing firms reporting.

The decrease in employment for the period in Menasha was 2.2 per cent and in pay rolls 7.1 per cent. The average hourly wage for the 11 firms reporting was 65.4 cents per hour. Neenah showed a decrease of .9 per cent in employment and .1 per cent in wages. The average hourly wage for the 11 plants reporting was 68.8 cents per hour.

Total employment in Wisconsin factories was 9.5 per cent greater in November 1937 than in November 1936, and corresponding pay rolls were 13.4 per cent greater for the period. Factory employment in each month of 1937 was greater than employment in the corresponding month of 1936. Factory workers averaged $26.45, $25.80 and $24.87 per week in the months of May, August and November, respectively. These changes in the per capita weekly earnings of factory workers are primarily due to reductions in their hours of work rather than to changes in rates of pay.

Asylum Addition Work Progresses

Expect New Building Will Be Completed in Another Month

Finishing work on the interior of the new $100,000 addition to the county asylum housing a hospital section and materially increasing the capacity of the institution, will be completed in about another month.

Most of the interior work on the third floor has been completed and workmen now are busy installing wainscoting in the bath rooms, asphalt tile in the halls and various rooms, cabinets, and painting. Installation of plumbing fixtures will be started in about a week.

The new building is the first unit of a series of buildings that eventually will replace the present buildings and is so situated and planned that subsequent units can be built at any time in the future.

Coalition Party to be Held at Stevens Point

Orville G. Hegner, Eighth congressional district Republican chairman, Elmer Honkamp, acting Outagamie county Republican chairman, and Mark Catlin, Jr., will attend a coalition meeting of Republicans and Democrats at Stevens Point Saturday. No county Democrats are expected to attend the party. Democratic leaders here have frowned on the coalition proposals in the state.

Postpone Construction Of Hangar Until Spring

Work on the new hangar at the Outagamie county airport will not be started until about March 1, Elwyn West, airport manager, has been informed by Carl Berg, Manitowish contractor. Chief Executive Needs Business Advisory Council

Roper Group Makes Contact Between Economic, Political Viewpoints

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Business and government sat down together—not a group of partisans, nor a group of antagonists, but men liberal and progressive in spirit, some of them ardent supporters of President Roosevelt—for the last few years—and today it may be truthfully said that a real contact has been made between the economic and the political viewpoints, as represented by the Roper council and the administration.

For the last three years, the council, originally formed as an advisory group for the secretary of commerce, has been quietly submitting reports on current problems after exhaustive study and earnest discussion. These reports have, with one exception, never been made public. They constitute a remarkable serial story of the efforts of business to give government constructive suggestions.

Among business men generally, it has often been said that the Roper council was too friendly to the administration and did not stand up for business as it should. This is an inaccurate characterization and is due to the fact that the council consistently acceded to the administration's request to avoid publicity and work behind the scenes.

This correspondent has criticized the council for failing to make public its reports and for failing to contact the congress, where the policy-making function really is vested in a democracy, but today, after an investigation of what happened Wednesday at the White House, it can be said that the Roper council presented intelligently and forcefully the facts about the present business recession. And surely business men generally could not ask more.

No Conspiracy
For, up to now, it has been averred by partisans, especially on the administration side, that business was engaged in some sort of a conspiracy to bring on a recession and cause the administration political embarrassment. A record of the work of the Roper council will reveal that it has discussed or made reports on every subject of prime importance from taxation to public utilities, from industrial planning to unemployment insurance and social security, from problems of wages and hours to collective bargaining.

The details of these written reports of the past and the subject matter of the Wednesday conference cannot be significant unless acted upon by the president of the United States and the congress. But business has access to government, and the Wednesday conference demonstrated how constructive the coming together of economic-minded and political-minded personalities can work toward the development of a better feeling of public confidence as to the economic future.

The president himself had paved the way for the meeting by clarifying in advance some of the points which had troubled business men over the week-end. Mr. Roosevelt, for instance, revealed to the press that he had no hard and fast definition of a "holding company" in his mind when he pronounced the edict that "all holding companies" were superfluous. It appears that the president was thinking of holding companies organized for some evil purpose of concentrated control and that he did not mean to attack holding companies which perform a legitimate service to the economic welfare of the country.

Again, it was a sort of admission that off-hand comments in press conferences by the president are not to be taken always as indicative of future trends in public policy, at least when the discussion is informal and no formal announcement of legislative policy has preceded.

Effect of Suggestions
The important fact now to be ascertained is what effect the things told the president by the Roper council will have upon him. Various groups have conferred at the White House in the last few weeks, generalities have been afterwards stated to the press, and the business world has had alternating feelings of optimism and pessimism depending on what the president and his advisers, like Messrs. Ickes and Jackson, have said to the public in their speeches.

Mr. Roosevelt has the opportunity to inculcate a real feeling of confidence by working with the Roper council. Such a group, confined to the more or less obscure precincts of the department of commerce, cannot produce much public confidence. But the recommendations of such a group, if accepted and acted upon by the president of the United States, can mean much toward the ending of the very serious business recession which faces the country today.

If the Roper council were to meet with the president himself at least

DICK POWELL BECOMES LEGAL FATHER OF HIS WIFE'S SON

Norman Scott Barnes, four, son of Joan Blondell, movie actress, is shown in Hollywood being held by Dick Powell, who became the boy's legal father by court order. The lad's natural father, George Barnes, said he approved the adoption. Powell and Miss Blondell were married after her divorce from Barnes.

once every four or five weeks, and if its committees and sub-committees were to be given a friendly hearing by leaders in congress—also without publicity or public debate—much might be accomplished toward that better understanding between government and business which 'most everybody on both sides proclaims enthusiastically should be brought about, but which never seems to get started because the machinery of actual conference and contact has never really been provided.

What has been needed right along is a business advisory council for the chief executive and for the congress, and, in a sense, Wednesday's conference was an illustration of the value of such an instrumentality. For the members of the Roper council came, prepared by months of previous study of outstanding topics of governmental policy, to lay before the president their consummate judgment on what ought to be done not in the dim and distant future, but right now.

The idea of conference between government and business is as much on trial as the president's capacity to meet the economic groups of the country and accept that which is best for the public interest, without thought of political partisanship or party.

What the president does about the Roper council's recommendations will be watched outside Washington by business, large and small. To ascertain whether constructive proposals are desired and whether, when presented, they are acted upon by those who have the political power to put into effect the suggestions made in good faith. The Valley Council Press club, composed of reporters from Boy Scout troops who submit news regularly each week to the Appleton office, will elect officers at a meeting Saturday morning, Feb. 19, at the Y. M. C. A., according to Dennis Wileb, club advisor.

Following the election and business meeting, the scouts will tour the Post-Crescent building.

HOW THE EAST MILKS THE REST OF THE COUNTRY

On several occasions the President and others in his official entourage have sharply complained against sectionalism in this country, that is the tendency of various geographical parts of our country to consider legislation from the standpoint of its effect upon them.

This is entirely all right so far as sound is concerned. Likewise it looks good in print. But one might wish that before this great Middle West were twitted upon such a charge that those like Mr. Roosevelt and others from the East and who do the twitting would remove some of the effects of sectionalism to which, in fact, they cling for dear life.

Pure Milk, the publication of the Pure Milk Association, bargaining agency for some 14,500 members who furnish milk to the Chicago Metropolitan area, has recently shown how, with the opening of the Panama Canal some 24 years ago the East, through the control of railroad freight rates, started to nail down preferences to their territory in transportation charges so that they might likewise nail down their industries that were even then looking with moving eye to the west.

No one has been able to shake loose the long-and-short-haul railroad rates which are distinct advantages to coastal areas and violent disadvantages to all the interior markets.

The Panama Canal for which the people of the Middle West in common with the rest of the country paid their full share never brought us any advantage. The low rates made possible for water transportation were splendid advantages, to both the East and West coast on interchange of their products but the freight rates introduced at the time the Panama Canal was opened up, and seemingly designed to prevent the interior from profiting but in fact as much created to hold industries from moving, prevented the great interior of this country from receiving natural advantages to which it was entitled.

As a result of the Panama Canal plus the long-and-short-haul railroad rates we find that wheat, flour, sugar and other farm commodities from the Missouri river basin and further west are transported by water through the canal to the Atlantic. Thus the railroads of this great section are deprived of their just load. The cities of this great section are deprived of the extended list of railroad workers and thus are deprived of the business in a score of kindred lines that would be possible were this core in its place.

Detailing the vicious results of manipulation in the respect named could be continued indefinitely. For a quarter of a century this situation has helped the Atlantic hang onto its industries, and thus offset its own wastage and extravagance.

But Pure Milk very aptly inquires whether it wouldn't be much better for the farmer in the great Middle West if he had more metropolitan Chicago districts to furnish with his product.

In the meantime the President has brought forth the Wage-Hour bill as if the wrongs and injustices already in existence in behalf of the East are not sufficient.

And he has admonished us: "Naughty! Naughty! Be not sectional" when we are already choked by the sectional hand of the East which he does not loosen.

In the face of these facts and this history the Wisconsin delegation voted to uphold the Wage-Hour bill.

It proceeded undoubtedly upon the idea that the Wisconsin farmer already has too much business.

THE END OF ANOTHER CHASE

"Black it stood as night,
Pierce as ten furies, terrible as hell,
And shook a dreadful dart . . .
Satan was now at hand."

So did Milton depict the impersonation of the bestial and the malignant which constitutes the enemy of all that is human and divine.

A man answering that description is in custody. He became "as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm carryeth away" when the Bureau of Investigation got on his trail.

When, four months ago, the aged Ross was kidnapped, a large ransom secured, and then silence crept in over the case like a fog the country realized that it was dealing with another stone-cold killer of the Hauptmann order, deaf to pity, indifferent to remorse.

But we hope it realized too that Mr. Hoover's Bureau of Investigation has polished up its technique into glazed ice condition since the Lindbergh child was kidnapped. Anyway, the two years that elapsed before Hauptmann was captured have now been cut to four months in the Ross case. And all without a starting clue.

The Hauptmann idea was in fact a copy of the earlier Loeb-Leopold effort. The purpose was to secure the ransom without the return of the person kidnapped. Whether that person be an infant or an adult, returning him is dangerous. Every day he is kept in custody increases the danger.

So with Hauptmann the danger was minimized by the immediate destruction of the child and the fraud upon its parents was made possible by merely taking its clothing, stuffing it in the getaway car, and using it for identification purposes later.

Practically this same procedure was used in the Ross case excepting that the human culture who planned it considered that he needed a confederate and added a deeper dye to his perfidy by destroying the confederate as soon as his work was over, thus removing a possible source of information and also gaining the total ransom.

We should felicitate the country upon the marvelous ingenuity and effectiveness of Mr. Hoover and his Bureau of Investigation. Certainly no similar department in any nation's history has ever swung into action with such precision and formidable understanding as this section of our Department of Justice.

With the soft paws of a feline, the relentless scent of a timber wolf, blessed with that high intelligence and careful training which only the most alert of human minds can supply, there is practically no avoidance of the terrible day of doom for the criminal when this pack of operatives take up his track.

IT MIGHT BE LIFE IMPRISONMENT

The Russian foreign office, after a necessary prod, has admitted that the American, Mrs. Reubens, alias Mrs. Robinson, is in Lubianka Prison, and has been there ever since she was taken from her hotel in Moscow by the Russian police "on suspicion of espionage." Judged by the devious and criminal ways of the so-called Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson the Russian suspicion may have good foundation in fact. Certainly something is rather askew about a pair that take unto themselves names of children from New York cemetery headstones and travel on fraudulent passports.

In banging the doors of dank Lubianka upon them the Russian police are probably doing no harm to America. But the case has a rather outstanding feature that should be noted in the passing. The woman has been in prison over 30 days "on suspicion." No charges have been filed against her. No opportunity has been given her for a hearing. No witness is produced against her. She is not given the choice of furnishing bail. Is it not clear that if a person may be put in prison 30 days on suspicion she may be kept there 30 years for the same reason?

This practice is never permitted in any land which has civilized or enlightened rules of procedure. It is only possible in countries where the liberty of the individual is a mockery and all the machinery of the state is molded to fit the hand of the tyrant and to serve his purposes.

Civilized rules of procedure such as those in vogue in the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Britain, America and the like, necessitate the presentation of an accused person in court before a responsible judge within varying times after his arrest ranging from one to four days. In no other way can the crushing abuses of bureaucracy and other forms of tyranny be halted.

But the right upon the part of the police to throw any person, however innocent or blameless, into prison "on suspicion" is a formidable and terrifying weapon in the creation of a wellnigh omnipotent police system and a wellnigh cringing citizenry.

In order to make the ministry do its bidding in Germany pastors were collared at their church doors and taken off to concentration camps. Germany, often refreshingly original, does not arrest them on suspicion but substitutes "protective arrest" as though it were saving them from the wrath of popular resentment.

Then it bundles them away to a concentration camp where ordinarily they are deprived of communication with anyone. A few months of that treatment is liable to break a fairly strong spirit. Thus, although no crime has been committed, although no trial has been had, although no accusation has been made, the tyrant, proceeding through his very efficient police, has bent the will of the arrested person to suit his fancy.

In the considered opinion of democracy there is little fundamental difference between the governments of Germany and Russia. And the abuse of the process of arrest which is common to both countries, while very important in itself, is far from the only major point of similarity.

D. Grade Pulp who are you?

PEACE

Great statesmen, thinkers, would reform the nation;
Great powers, meeting, talk of world-wide peace;
And mother's prayers o'er all the world be seeping

The time to come when awful war shall cease.
But they forget that human greed and passion
Cannot be made subservient to law;
And underneath our boasted social culture
Is hidden still the savage fang and claw;

And Peace must come, if ever it is coming.
When force of arms restrains the killer's hand;
Let us have done with futile arbitration,
While Greed for Power ravages a land.

—D Grade Pulp

My suggestion to the boss a while back that I be dispatched by the paper to investigate conditions down south has somehow failed to register. I hope he appreciates that every day I stay up north jeopardizes my health and that I am at my best when the weather is balmy and anyway, I've never been to Florida.

Besides, the car isn't working as well as it does when the thermometer stays over 70 degrees and sooner or later I am going to have to buy some more coal.

And that snow shovel I bought in a weak moment still leers at me whenever I pass it. "Winter's just started," it says. "Winter's just started."

Of course, this way I don't have to worry about sunburn.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

WALKING OUT TOGETHER

We will walk out together, you and I,
And find a path we wandered long ago.
There are no woolly sheep to amble by
In a green meadow where the cornflowers grow.
The ground is covered now with ice and snow;
The birds that sang to us have flown away.
The lambs are gone, the bitter tempests blow
Across the joyous road of yesterday.

Upon the pane the frost has pictured all
We cannot find upon our winter walk.
We see the magic outline of a tall
Delphinium, a snowy hollyhock!
We two will only walk around the block,
And yet so vivid grows our memory,
Illumined by our loving happy talk,
It is the flower-breathless past we see!

Personal Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author

MEANING OF A RASH

To the ancient tribal medicine man a skin rash or eruption, even scabies (the itch) or that due to the irritation and scratching of pediculosis (body lice) indicated evil spirit, devil or some similar possession. Gradually the medieval concept of pestilence, disease or poisonous matter being "thrown off" was evolved from the primitive medicine man's witchcraft. A century or two ago the quacks and nostrum mongers created a profitable business exploiting popular ignorance and credulity with methods of treatment or remedies which purported to "purify" the blood. Today millions of morons still resort to such "blood purifying" treatments or remedies when they have any troublesome or unsightly skin rash.

There are many diseases or morbid conditions in which the blood is more or less poisoned or at any rate surcharged with products of incomplete or abnormal metabolism or combustion or oxidation or with foreign matter which is more specifically poisonous. Seldom, however, is there any skin rash or eruption evident in these diseases. Even the disease which, vaguely or definitely, come to mind when "blood poisoning" is mentioned, that is, syphilis, (often unnoted) rash in the early stages, is generally not characterized by any acute skin rash after the disease has developed into a constitutional disease and the blood is undeniably poisoned.

Unless you choose to regard hives or acute dermatitis (eczema) or other allergic reaction as evidence of "blood poisoning"—which is as nearly true as the child mind can comprehend the nature of allergy—it is difficult to find a substantial reason for the persisting fallacy. Nor would it matter that the wrong notion clings in the lay mind, were it not for the harm it does.

In the first place the idea of poisons being "thrown off" or "eliminated" by the skin makes the victim more susceptible to the blandishments of charlatans who are eager to boil, bake or sweat the "poison" out of the simple customer by one means or another. While the simple customer is undergoing these freak baths or other diverting ministrations the diagnosis and proper treatment of his ailment is generally neglected.

In the next place, the notion that skin rashes or eruptions or "breaking out" are due to impure blood or to poison in the blood is the cause of a good deal of unhappiness for young persons who happen to have more or less of the virtually physiological acne or blackheads and pimples of youth. The malicious inference drawn from this is that such innocent pimples are somehow an indication of immorality, which of course is cruelly false. Skin trouble is in fact no more an index of character than is headache or neuritis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Foot Itch

Received much benefit from your gasoline cure for athlete's foot. I was desperate, had tried everything, but when I swabbed my feet with gasoline, also insides of shoes, I was cured in a week. (N. G.)

Answer—Thank you. Any one using plain gasoline for foot itch should be careful about being near fire or flame or striking a match.

Vitamin B

Grandfather, 72, complains his fingers and back of hands swell and feel stiff. He wants to know where to get vitamin B. (G. M. W.)

Answer—You can buy wheat germ at average price of fifteen cents a pound in health food stores, or directly from any mill if the miller will trouble to catch it out for you. Take three or four ounces of it daily, mixed with any cereal, or in any recipe calling for flour—use half wheat germ and half flour. (Copyright, 1938)

Your Birthday

"AQUARIUS"

If January 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a. m.; from 2 to 4 p. m., and from 9 to 11 p. m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a. m.; from 4 to 6 p. m., and from 11 p. m. until midnight.

You ought to find it easy to concentrate on any matter requiring intensive thought on this day when conditions seem favorable for accomplishing anything you seriously undertake to do. Be careful that a lack of sympathy upon your part does not arouse a feeling of antagonism in someone seeking your help. It will be poor judgment to deal in generalities, if asked for an opinion or decision. Be sure to give praise when praise is due this day, for withholding it is apt to have a bad reaction on some of your personal affairs. Express your own individuality, and refrain from attempting to copy someone else's.

Any tendency to procrastinate in attending to matters of a financial nature is likely to be a serious mistake. Married and engaged couples, as well as those assiduously courting their matrimonial ideal, must be careful that some form of criticism this day, does not act as a boomerang upon themselves.

If a woman and January 21 is your birthday, your diet ought to be excellent, and your conversational powers above the average person's. You are, perhaps, very discriminating in the matter of clothing, food and entertainment. Your intellectual development is apt to be very gratifying to yourself and friends, as it may bring you into the limelight. You should have the happy faculty of correcting any mistakes you make, with comparative ease. The stage, literary field, educational or social welfare work, as well as the commercial world, should offer you many opportunities to make money. Your selection of a husband is likely to be a very wise one.

The child born on January 21, may be extremely sensitive, very cautious about running any physical risks, and studious when it comes to school work. This youngster appears to have a bright future.

If a man and January 21 is your natal day, never permit your desire to make money to cause you to be grasping. If you expect it to be fulfilled, as a politician, lawyer, chemist, contractor, promoter, scientist, artist, author or sales representative, you should have an unusually good chance to make good.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York—Dining at a major hotel on the Park the other night, I was attracted by an atmosphere of excitement that seemed to pervade the restaurant and the lobby, a part of which could be glimpsed from my table against a wall not far from the entrance. The waiters wore an amused smile, and certain of the guests left their tables and hurried to the door, where they glimpsed a vignette that caused them such merriment that they giggled happily and came back with much excited talk.

This was too much for my tortured curiosity and so I arose and strolled out into the lobby. It was far better than I had hoped. There sat John Barrymore, legs crossed, staring pleasantly across the lobby, wearing a Tyrolean hat. After a minute or two he strolled over to a newstand, bought a magazine, and disappeared into an elevator.

I returned then to what turned out to be an exciting meal. The orchestra was playing a medley of Viennese waltzes. Suddenly one became aware that all the dancers had left the floor—except one young man who had just entered by a side door. He wore an overcoat and a felt hat. He was swirling and dancing all by himself, quite drunk.

A waiter hurried to him, a persuasive look in his eye, and touched him lightly on the sleeve. . . . "Such conduct was not permitted . . . would the gentleman please go outside to leave?"

The gentleman was good enough to slug the waiter in the jaw. The waiter retaliated with much aplomb. A confere seized his other arm. There was a terrific struggle. The orchestra maintained a steady two-four time. A third waiter organized a surprise flank attack in the rear and caught the young man around the middle, lifting him off the floor. The young man's face was livid. All the waiters continued to smile, but it didn't take too critical a gaze to see that they really weren't very much pleased. By this time the young man had been hustled off the scene. The orchestra continued to sob out the romantic strains of old Vienna.

RIVER POLLUTION

Editor Post-Crescent: About September 15th hundreds of thousands of perch, pike pickerel, bass and other fish died in the lower Fox River, between the John Street bridge in Appleton and the Kimberly bridge. The matter was reported promptly to the State Conservation Department and the State Board of Health at Madison. Officials of both departments appeared on the scene to investigate. A report was published, stating that the fish had died "because of

R. J. MEYER

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington — It has taken several years, but the federal communications commission expects a blanket of silence soon will be thrown over those radio stations which crossed the border into Mexico and continued to broadcast programs back into the United States despite efforts to subdue them.

Back of the drive to accomplish this and many other moves to remedy radio troubles is T. A. M. Craven, youngish member of the commission, who has had an antenna out in the international airwaves since as a junior wartime naval officer he was assigned to iron out the confusion of allied army radio communication.

Driven Across Border

Back in the thriving, thriffling "Twenties" the old radio commission, now absorbed by the communications commission, had two major problem stations. One was operated by Dr. John R. Brinkley at Millford, Kansas, who preached over the air the new technique of gland reedies. The other was owned by Norman Baker, who broadcast from Muscatine, Iowa, on the subject of cancer.

The commission doubted the efficacy of such broadcast medical lore and ultimately denied licenses to the two radio stations. Began then a long stretch of litigation which resulted in the courts' upholding the radio commission.

But Dr. Brinkley and Baker simply picked up camp and moved across the border into Mexico, put higher power on their stations, and on radio bands of their own selection began decloring by air as before.

The United States appealed to Mexico to do something about it but Mexico argued that it was entitled to use the air, and besides these stations were valuable sources of revenue. The Mexican attitude reflected that of many Latin American nations which suspected the United States of an intent to hog the whole atmosphere.

A series of conferences resulted, with Craven taking a leading part, at times officially and at other times in a private capacity. His argument was this: The United States could not hog the program broadcast channels. Nothing the United States did on these long-wave bands had any effect south of Mexico. So Central and South America could iron out their own troubles independently.

That limited air confusion to Canada, United States, Mexico, Cuba and Haiti and San Domingo. Canada and the United States already had reached an agreement on sharing the ether, and last November at Havana an agreement was made by which broadcast channels were allocated to Cuba, Haiti, Mexico and San Domingo. They agreed to avoid conflicting allocation of wave bands.

Short Wave Problems

Part of the agreement, as explained here, was that Mexico should require the border stations—there are now six—to move about 200 miles south of the border. Since their power so as not to interfere in the United States, and devote their program predominantly to Mexico instead.

None of the countries has had time to ratify the treaty but the commission is hopeful.

Division of short waves was another matter. Short waves from the United States can fess up all of South America, Europe and India south and east. A conference opens in February at Cairo, to attempt once again to design a world short-wave pattern. It presents a thousand troubles, not to mention such little items as international propaganda broadcasts. By such means Germany has been building up good will in South America.

The problem could not be solved among the Americas but a Pan-American agreement was reached to "stand together" at Cairo.

Lack of oxygen in the water, not giving any reason, however, why such a condition should exist only in that short section of the river between Appleton and Kimberly, and nowhere else.

Nothing more was heard until interested citizens began to protest. The word was given out that the Conservation Department had turned the matter over to the Board of Health "because the statutes under which the latter could proceed provide much more severe penalties."

Still nothing happened. Finally in response to continued protests, a public hearing was set to be held at Appleton November 18, two months after the fact. The hearing was given no local publicity until further protests were registered. Then, a few days before the date of the scheduled hearing, "interested citizens" were requested, through an item in the Post-Crescent, to appear at the city hall and tell what they knew about the dead fish.

The hearing was held as scheduled.

The principal testimony was given by officers and employees of the Interlake mill. Newspaper reports did not show any denial of the accusation that digester waste acid had been dumped into the river in large quantities.

The chief chemist of the mill testified that he had conducted a series of experiments which proved conclusively, to his own satisfaction, that fish would thrive better in water polluted with mill acid than in plain river water.

The testimony was taken under advisement.

Two more months have elapsed; four months since the fish were killed, and nothing further has been heard of the matter.

Cities and villages in the valley have spent millions of dollars in recent years in great and disastrous plants to clean up the river, both for health and recreation. Manufacturing plants should be willing to cooperate. The statutes provide means for obtaining such cooperation from those who refuse or neglect to do so.

State President Of A. F. of L. Urges School for Labor

Education on Current Problems Needed, Henry Ohl Says

New London — Education on labor, industrial, and economic problems for the working class and an appreciation of the responsibilities of organized labor was emphasized by Henry Ohl, president of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, at a meeting of more than 200 employees of the Hamilton and Sons Canning company at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall last night.

Ohl urged the formation of a labor school in New London to keep all union laborers familiar with current problems. The meeting was the most unusual in the experience of Robert McFarlin, it was announced by the general representative of the International Hod Carriers union, in that it was a business and social party arranged by the employers to which leading labor speakers and authorities had been invited.

In his general address to the employees, most of whom are now members of the recently organized Canning Factory Employees Local 1107, Ohl urged cooperation among workers and management and congratulated the union group and the canning company on the fine contract which was adopted following a 7-weeks strike which ended last week.

'Look to Future' The labor president advised the group to completely forget the strike and its incidents which have passed, to look to a bright future and plan to set a fine example for organized labor in New London.

His sentiments were generally expressed by Mayor E. W. Wendlandt and Robert McFarlin who also addressed the gathering briefly.

A. E. Hamilton conducted the meeting in behalf of the canning company and promised full cooperation in making the Canning Employees local the best organization in the city.

The meeting was designed to bring former strikers and non-union laborers together again in a harmonious group. Dancing and refreshments followed the meeting.

Keefe Sees Lack of Thrift As Cause of Economic Ills

New London — Lack of thrift on the part of the masses of the United States and the willingness of the government to aid those without means was laid as the cause of many of today's economic ills by Frank Keefe, vice president and attorney for the Oshkosh Building and Loan association, in an address before the annual meeting of the New London Building and Loan at the American Legion clubhouse last night. About 150 members of the local association were served at the 6:30 banquet.

Thrift as an attribute of character as recognized in the early days and by the pioneers seems to have been given in this modern day, Keefe charged. Apparently, he said, the people more and more are relying on the government to provide them a living. People spend all they earn and when they have no job and no money they go on relief.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Tricky business: In the Jack Holt film, "All Were Enemies," there's a scene in which Beverly Roberts' face must be "drained slowly of its color." To make her face "go white," she first goes blue. In her sky-blue make-up, she is "lighted" with a series of color filters. These, changing slowly from deep magenta to pale vermilion, turn the trick for the camera. (It's a variant of the old trick by which blackface comes go white on the screen—mixing coloring lights with colored make-up.)

Heeres Geraldine Spreckles acquired the screen name of Anna Haley, and her release from contract about the same time. Chul Boucher from England arrived and departed before the name-changing could get to work. ... But Ellen Clancy (who is pretty and looks exactly like Ellen Clancy) now is called Janet Shaw. ... Nice business!

Times have changed, or audiences. ... One of the first Fox talkies was "Are You There?" But now Beatrice Lillie is one of the hits of the Bing Crosby picture "Dr. Rhythm." ... Audiences have caught up with the Lillie style, for she hasn't changed it! ...

James Cagney's first picture since he made up with Warner Bros. will be "Boy Meets Girl"—and if Marie Wilson isn't in the girl role she'll be broken-hearted. The nice child gets jittery every time there's a rumor to the contrary. ...

Larry Crabbe's hair has been under so many dyes for various roles that they're calling him the "chameleon." ... Sentiment lurks where you least expect it: Big Victor McLaglen was among those who simply had to rush home for the holidays. ...

James Cagney Bette Davis, to work her way through schools and preliminary to a theater career, at various times waited on tables (Cushing Academy), coached plays, did kitchen duty (Crest Alben school), acted as secretary, was hostess in a tea-room, served as usherette at the Cape Cod Playhouse, where she hoped to act.

Reserve Officers Will Give Talks At Club Meetings

Plans for National Defense Week Discussed Last Night

Talks before service clubs and groups in Appleton, Kaukauna and New London will feature the National Defense Week program of Appleton chapter of the Reserve Officers' association of the United States, it was announced at a meeting of the officers last night at Hotel Appleton. Thirty-five officers from Appleton and the county, Green Bay, West De Pere, and Sheboygan were present.

Major A. O. Kuemsted has been named chairman of the National Defense Week activities. The period is Feb. 12 to 22, the ten days between the birthday anniversaries of Lincoln and Washington.

Closer coordination of the artillery and the infantry in modern military tactics and findings concerning mechanized branches of the service featured a talk by Major James Hughes, Wausau, at last night's meeting of the officers.

Pointing that an you can't hold territory of positions unless you have foot soldiers to send into them, Major Hughes said the infantry still is the queen of battle. However, there are times when its efforts must be aided by artillery and under present tactics there must be closer cooperation between the two branches.

Need Capable Officers
No longer can artillery units send more or less undesirable second lieutenants to be liaison officers between the infantry and artillery. Present tactics require the services of an experienced and capable officer not below the rank of captain.

Indications are that the ultra short wave radio someday will become the means of communication between infantry and artillery in battle, Major Hughes said. The telephone, with its reels of wire, is awkward and slow and in a heavily shelled area the wires are put out of order. Light signals from the front to rear have proved of some use but can't be used from rear to front and can't be used at all under adverse atmospheric conditions.

The major commented on the French 75 mm. gun as the best artillery weapon ever invented and said that the United States army has about 3,000 of the guns mounted on modern carriages for use behind tanks and automobiles. However, the number is highly inadequate, he said.

There was a discussion of the mechanics of the French gun, and comments to the effect that certain guns of the World war such as the heavy 155 mm. guns will no longer be used because they were too big to be moved with necessary rapidity.

Need Man on Foot, Horse
Major Hughes also discussed the modernization and mobilization of military units, a move which has gained considerable momentum in recent years. However, he said critical point such a move always occurs in peacetime but that under actual war conditions even as now proved in Spain, mechanical equipment doesn't stand the test. As a result there are many who feel the man on foot and artillery weapons behind horses still are most reliable.

Once or twice Major Hughes digressed from the artillery subject to make comments on world affairs. Once he said that a newspaper war correspondent since the Boer war in talking to a club to which the major belonged in California, remarked that if Japan hadn't encountered so much opposition to her plans for China, she now would be involved with the United States.

Major Hughes augmented the remark with the comments of a film director who, on returning from a location trip to Alaska, said he was startled at the activities of Japanese fishing fleets along the Alaskan coast. The major added that no doubt the Japanese have made better maps of these waters and islands than the United States and added that plane bases in Alaskan islands, just a short distance from Japan, would put the Japanese in highly strategic positions for activities against American west coast cities.

Bankers Hear Hill Praise Advances Of Dairy Industry

State First in Production Of Cheese and Condensed Milk

Milwaukee (U)—The forward strides of the dairy industry in Wisconsin were described today by Charles L. Hill, chairman of the department of agriculture and markets at Madison, as placing the state above all others in the production of cheese and condensed, evaporated milk, and milk powder.

Hill, who spoke before the ninth annual midwinter conference of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, told the delegates Wisconsin produces today about 58 per cent of all the nation's cheese. The state is third in butter production, he said.

Wisconsin Gains
Tracing the development of various phases of the dairy industry in Wisconsin, Hill added that Wisconsin leads all states in Bang (bottling-free) certified herds. He referred to the efforts of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture to promote the latest trends in the dairy industry for the benefit of the farmer.

"We have a dairy and food commission that has been recognized nationally as the leader in all movements for advancing the dairy industry," Hill added.

Praise was offered the bankers by Hill for their assistance to the dairy industry in helping with dairy plant bookkeeping, financing seed and bull campaigns, and making loans. He urged bankers to help farmers work out their credit needs for electrification of their farm homes and premises.

"The state is appropriating $75,000 annually for the advertising of Wisconsin dairy products and much good is resulting therefrom," said Hill. "Sooner or later there is bound to be a program supported by the industry itself."

Clausen Advocates Repeal Of Undistributed Profits Tax at Committee Hearing

Washington (U)—A spokesman for the United States Chamber of Commerce told the house ways and means committee today that its tax revision program did not "go far enough" and that the undistributed profits tax should be repealed.

Fred H. Clausen, Horicon, Wis., manufacturer and chairman of the chamber's committee on federal finance, asserted "there is sound basis for our position that any penalty taxation of corporate earnings that are legitimately held, not for the purpose of avoidance of the individual surtax, should be repealed."

"If the principle is accepted that employment in private business is better than government relief, then we contend that the repeal of the surtax on undistributed earnings should be complete."

The tax revision program as recommended by a ways and means subcommittee provides modification of the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes, reduction of gift and estate tax exemptions and many other tax law changes.

Bartender Takes Stand in Murder Trial of Wright

2 Parking Station Attendants and Phone Operator Also Called

Los Angeles (U)—The prosecution, summoning today a bartender, two parking station attendants and a hotel telephone operator, sought to picture Paul A. Wright as a man who coolly premeditated murder against a backdrop of gaiety and drinking in Hollywood night spots.

Wright, 38, former president of the busy Union Air terminal in Burbank, is on trial for his life for shooting to death his attractive young wife, Evelyn, and his "best friend," John B. Kimmel.

Summoned to the witness stand to tell the last hours of Kimmel were Richard Walsh, bartender in Clara Bow's It club, where Wright and Kimmel drank together before driving to Wright's Glendale home at 2 a. m. Nov. 9—two hours before Kimmel was fatally wounded; Louis Russell and Carlos Carter, parking station attendants, called to establish the time Wright and Kimmel left Hollywood, and Gertrude Gustavson, telephone operator.

Phone Calls Evidence
Miss Gustavson was summoned to tell of telephone calls made by Kimmel to his wife, Marlene, preceding his trip with Wright to prove to Mrs. Wright that the two men had participated in a "stag" evening.

The prosecution already elicited testimony that Wright and Kimmel, his airport operations manager, seemed the best of friends while together in Hollywood four hours before the shooting. The testimony came from Don Sturdevant of the bureau of air commerce station at union terminal.

Sturdevant related he saw Wright and Kimmel drinking at the Hollywood Athletic club after a meeting of the "Quiet Birdmen's club." They appeared entirely amiable and friendly. Neither man was intoxicated, the witness added.

Sturdevant said Mrs. Kimmel was at his home, playing bridge, and that he expected Kimmel to accompany him there, but Kimmel and Wright went off to drink somewhere else.

Wright, in a statement after he summoned police to the scene of the killing, said he found Kimmel and Mrs. Wright in an embrace on a piano bench, obtained a pistol and fatally wounded both in a blind rage.

Dr. A. C. Barry Seriously Injured When Car Hits Culvert

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—Dr. A. C. Barry, Waupaca, was seriously hurt and A. J. Shumway, 231 Pearl street, Oshkosh, escaped with minor bruises, when the car in which they were riding left Highway 41 near Erasmans' corners in the town of Vinland early this morning. Shumway was driving the car.

Dr. Barry and Shumway were taken to Mercy hospital, Oshkosh, by Mrs. R. W. Webb, 808 38th street, Green Bay. Irving Stulp, captain of the Winnebago county traffic squad, and Bernard Clark, patrolman, investigated.

Stulp said he was told by Shumway that the car had been forced from the highway by a truck. The machine struck a culvert on the east side of the highway.

Appleton Will Get $17,598 of Liquor Tax for 6 Months

Funds Will Be Used to Reduce General Property Taxes in State

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—City, village and township officers today can rejoice with the manufacturers of alcoholic beverages that the 1937 summer was a good one for liquor consumption, for the beverage tax division of the state treasury this week announced the distribution of $2,045,228 for July to January liquor taxes which will go toward the reduction of local real estate taxes.

Checks now being prepared by the state treasury will be mailed to local treasurers within the next two weeks, officials announced. Distributed on the basis of population, the total disbursement represents a little more than 69 cents for every inhabitant of the state. Indians are not counted when checks are sent to the local community treasurers.

Under state law, state liquor tax apportionments are to be used only to reduce local general taxes.

$43,000 For County
According to Alfred Schumann, supervisor of the beverage tax division, Appleton will get $17,598, while all the cities, villages and the towns will get $42,942.23.

Outagamie county figures are reported as follows: Bear Creek $286; Black Creek $587; Black Creek village, $366; Bovina $398; Buchanan $768; Center $944; Cicero $764; Combined Locks $379; Oak $764; Deer Creek $626; Ellington $797; Freedom $1009; Grand Chute $1909; Hortonville $392; Hortonville $931; Kaukauna $4583; Kaukauna town, $466; Kimberly $1371; Liberty $300; Maine $472; Maple Creek $471; Oneida $1154; Osborn $374; Seymour $336; Shiocton $352; Vandenberg $596.

Democrats Can't Use Presidential Vote As Basis for Naming Precinct Officials

Madison (U)—Attorney General O. S. Loomis ruled in effect today that Wisconsin Democrats cannot use the huge vote cast for President Roosevelt in 1936 as a basis for appointment of precinct officials in this year's state elections.

The statute, amended by the last legislature, provides that election inspectors and clerks shall be members of the two parties which received the biggest vote in the preceding election and the basis for this determination, Loomis held, must be the vote for governor.

While President Roosevelt led all tickets in this state, the Progressives and Republicans finished first and second respectively in the gubernatorial vote. This, however, was the statewide total.

Which two parties shall be given the election appointments in a particular precinct depends upon their standing in the precinct only, so the effect of Loomis ruling may vary. Progressives conceded there may be a number of precincts in which they will have no appointments.

State Law Changed
The last legislature amended the law because the new Progressive party had no presidential candidate. Heretofore election officials were appointed always on the basis of the presidential vote and when the state had only two major parties there were no complications.

"Where a party had no presidential candidate at the last general election then to test its strength as against other parties in the district by the vote of that party's candidate for governor as against the vote of other parties for president does not truly ascertain the strength of the parties," Loomis ruled.

He said he was compelled to reach this conclusion even though it is contrary to the letter of the law. The problem, he added, is one that needs legislative attention.

Inspector Will Address Co-op on New Seed Laws

Henry Lunz, chief seed inspector of the state department of agriculture and markets, will talk on "The Seed Law and its Relation to Merchandising Seed" at a meeting of the Fox River Valley Cooperative Wholesale tonight at Hotel Appleton.

Lunz will talk following a 6:30 dinner. A motion picture on the making of rope and twine will be shown.

will be sent to the secretary of state for certification and for the drawing of warrants. The warrants will be sent to the treasury department and the treasurer will forward the checks to the local fiscal officers.

The king replied "I accept her betrothal to myself from thee, and take her under my care and bind myself to offer her my protection and ye who are present, bear witness."

There were refreshments, and each guest was given a $250 golden bonbonniere (candy box) as a souvenir.

Farida delegated her father to give her in marriage to the king a half hour before the palace ceremony, in a legal transaction in the presence of two witnesses at her Heliopolis home.

In addition to her father and an uncle, there were 23 royal princes, Premier Mahmoud Pasha and cabinet ministers at the Koubbeh ceremony.

After a weekend of wedding receptions and teas, the bride will retire from the public eye—her $25,000 trousseau, 45 dresses of gossamer and lace, shimmering satin and glittering jewels, for Farouk alone to see.

THE WEEK'S SCORE
W. DePere 30, Kaukauna 28.

FRIDAY'S GAMES
New London at Clintonville.
Kaukauna at Neenah.
Shawano at Menasha.

MENASHA — Menasha High school cagers will attempt to close the first half of their conference schedule with a victory over the unbeaten Shawano Indians Friday night at Butte des Morts gymnasium. Officials for the game will be Richard Erditz and George Hotchkiss, both of Oshkosh.

The varsity tilt will start at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a game between reserve squads of the two schools at 7 o'clock.

The Indians are unbeaten in five conference tilts while the Bluejays have won three games and dropped two. Further comparison of figures indicates that the Indians will be favored for the game but the Bluejays will not be counted out lightly.

The Shawano team has a more high-powered offense and a more defense. The offense has averaged 30 points a game on 10 field goals and 10 free throws. The Indians have fouled 60 times. Opponents have averaged six field goals and six free throws for 18 points a game. They have fouled 64 times in attempting to stop the Indian scoring.

On the other hand the Bluejay offense lags slightly behind that of the Indians but their defense is much weaker. The Bluejays have averaged 11 field goals and 6 free throws for 26 points a game. Opponents have averaged only nine field goals but have connected on eight tries from the free throw line for a 26 point average. The Bluejays have been weak on free shots.

Only twice this season has Shawano been called on to win the game from the free throw line. Neenah outscored them from the field, 5 to 4, but fell behind on free throws. The Black Panthers scored 12 field goals as did the Indians but did not have as many chances from the free throw line.

For Menasha, Coach N. A. Calder probably will start Landskron and Schneider at forwards, Zelinski at center, Heiss and Reel at guards. To combat the rangy Shawano team Block and Osiewalski may get an early call into the game while DuCharme is likely to go in at a guard.

SHAWANO SEES WIN
Shawano—The title-bound Indians will stake their undefeated conference record and their championship ship hopes against the court warriors of Menasha at that city Friday night, in a game that does not figure to change the standings of the respective teams but that might prove an upset.

Menasha is riding in fourth place in the N. E. W. standings and has little to lose. There is a strong suspicion in the ranks of the Indians that the Menasha five is pointing for this game and Coach

Brietz Picks Braddock to Outpoint Farr in Battle

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK—If "Jumping Jackie" Hunt, 176-pound halfback sensation at Huntington High down in West Virginia, really is ticketed for Notre Dame, how come a certain well known West Virginia college coach has taken out a $10,000 life insurance policy on the lad's life? ... What do you make of that, Watson? ... More than 83,000 fans—a bumper crop—have witnessed the first half of the college basketball season in Madison Square Garden. ... Gunnar Barlund, the Finn, who likes it plenty cold, has gone to Lake George to get ready for Buddy Baer.

Ouch Dept.: Earl Whitehill, Cleveland southpaw has learned it pays to read the papers. ... He drove all the way from Iowa through the snow to Cleveland to discuss his 1938 contract with C. C. Slapnicka, vice president of the Indians. ... When he rolled into town he discovered Slapnicka was in Florida for his health. ... General opinion around town is Enrico Venturi owes the New York State athletic commission a vote of thanks. ... His hundreds of pals said good-bye to Eddie Neil yesterday. ... If you get too good for this world, up you go, to a better one, ...

APPLETON BOXER

Robert Jacobs, above, is an Appleton amateur boxer and will show in the curtain raiser this evening at Armory G with Leon Toonen, also of Appleton, as his opponent. He will come in at 112 pounds. Jacobs, despite the fact he looks rather slight, has a K. O. punch and used it against a Waukegan youth here last month.

One change has been announced for tonight's card. Angie Paulson, Waukegan, Ill., will replace Eddie Kizor as the opponent for John Duxa Fond du Lac. Tonight's card will start at 8:30. (Post-Crescent Photo.)

Group Will Plan 1938 'Olympics'

Representatives of Service Clubs Will Meet Tonight

Representatives of five service clubs will meet in the offices of Ray H. Risch, physical education director at the Y. M. C. A., at 7:30 this evening to discuss a tentative program for the annual Inter-Club Olympics competition.

The Olympics this year will welcome the newly organized Exchange club which is expected to make things none too easy for Rotarians, last year's winners.

The men competed in everything from ping pong to billiards and from checkers to tug-of-war last year and are considering a bunion derby and volleyball competition this year.

The following men will represent the various clubs at the meeting this evening: Franklin Jesse, Lions Club; Ray Treiber, Exchange Club; Dave Bender, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Alfred S. Bradford, Rotary Club; Dr. Max Goeres, Kiwanis Club.

Joe Louis Draws More Attention Than Yankee Star

DiMaggio Left Out in Cold As Both Visit Brad-dock Camp

BY GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK—Big as a man as Joe DiMaggio undeniably is, and however many homeruns he might hit next season for the youth of America, he still lacks the lustre of Joe Louis, the heavyweight boxing champion. There's something about a man who, presumably, can lick any other man in the world with his fists.

The two of them were out at Pompton Lakes, N. J., yesterday, watching the oldtimer, Jim Braddock, put the finishing touches on his training for Friday night's 10-round engagement at the Garden with Tommy Farr, the brash Welshman. DiMaggio, the champion home run hitter, was just another spectator. Louis, who cracks strong men one punch and leaves them lying there, was surrounded.

Looking big as a skinned mule in the coonskin cap and heavy clothes that protected him from the near-zero weather, Louis sat and answered fairly intelligently a hundred questions tossed at him. Dozens crowded up to shake the young Negro's hand. DiMaggio, watching it, must have felt a complete outsider.

Nobody asked him anything. Nobody even wanted to know when he was going to sign a Yankee contract, or for how much.

It was tough competition, as well, for Braddock, who lost his title to Joe last summer in Chicago. Jim boxed six rounds as hard as he could go, and looked good outside of occasional wild swings with his right. He said, referring to Friday night's scrap, "I'll be in there winning it." But what everybody wanted to know was: Who did Louis think would win?

Pulling for Braddock? Joe, who is learning the art of speech rapidly these days, didn't say. It was easy to detect, though, that the champion would like to see Braddock knock Farr bow-legged. He doesn't like the voluble Welshman very much.

"If there's a knockout, Braddock ought to land it," said Joe, watching the ex-champ get around. "He can hit. He knocked me down out at Chicago, didn't he? And he stood up and fought me. Farr can't hit hard enough to hurt."

Someone suggested that Farr, after all, had proved that he could take plenty of punching when he stood up to Louis for 15 rounds at the Yankee stadium—that he must be tough.

"I don't know," the brown boy demurred. "I didn't hit him with a right like I hit Braddock. All I did was jab him with a left, and when I caught him with a good left hook once or twice I couldn't follow it up. I broke two knuckles on my right hand in the third round, when I hit him on the head, and it wasn't any use to me after that."

Golden Eagles Will Invade St. John High School Gymnasium

St. Joseph Golden Eagles smashed St. Therese for a 26 to 6 victory in the Catholic Boys conference game at Wilson Junior High school gymnasium Wednesday. J. Gregorini topped the scoring with four baskets for eight points while F. Cook had two buckets for St. Therese.

St. Therese went scoreless in the first and third quarters while scoring four points in the second period and two points in the final frame. St. Joseph led 12 to 4 at halftime and added eight points in the third quarter.

The Golden Eagles will invade Little Chute Friday to tackle St. John High school conference leaders. St. John is favored to win but the Appleton squad intends to give the Dutchman a run for their money.

DICK WENZLAFF, who puts this page together every day out in the back shop, and who sometimes has to take a ribbing from one Edward Sternard about his bowling, today is the toast of the back shop. As a matter of fact, of the whole office.

For last evening Dick went out in Post-Crescent bowling team's first game against the Tuttle Press in the Industrial league at Arcade alleys and smacked down a total of 255 pins. The count helped the P-C take the first game and pepped up the lads so much they counted another win and dumped the Tuttles out of a first place tie. The 255 won Dick single game honors for the night. It helped him get a 612 series which also was high for the night and helped the P-C get team and match honors. The last score was a 2381.

All of which is pretty fair for a chap who a couple weeks ago was kept off the team for a night because he happened to have a bad evening the week previous. Other P-C scores which were pretty fair were a 203 and 202 by Sternard and a pair of 202's by Irv Weiss.

For the Tuttle Press, Don Purdy rolled a 243 game in that first encounter when he and Wenzlaff were seeing who could outdo the other. Don also had a 586 series. Wallie Gressenz showed a 209 game and 562 series.

Fond Sports won two games from the Tuttle Cubs and remained in first place by a wide margin. Ken Smith had a pair of 194's and a 582 series and Charles Pond a 205 game. For the Cubs, Bialkowsky rolled a 216 and 532 series.

Atlas Printers lose
Atlas Printers also were dumped out of first place tie of last week when they dropped a pair to the Wire Works. Arnold Meyer rolled a 218 and 501. VanderVeldt a 204 and 566 and J. Zapp a 203 for the Printers. The Wires had a 208 by Earl Joecks and a 207 by E. Witko.

Power company dropped its first game to the Woolen Mills by a 2-point margin and was moaning the luck until it copped the third game by six pins. The Woolens won the second by 32 pins and thereby took the lead for the evening. Sakalians again led the Powers with a 478 series while Lee Barlament paced the Woolens with a 216 and 527.

Atlas Embossers won three from the Schlafer Hardware. The third contest ended in a tie but the Atlas team won in the roll-off. Lyle VanderVeldt showed a 202 and 566 for the Atlas and D'Arcy McGee a 216 and 500 for the Hardware.

Coated Paper topped the first game of the evening to the Montgomery Ward team but came back and took the second and third contests. Art Stremel rolled a 214 and 543 for the Wards and Len Handstead a 520 and Schroeder a 201 for the Coated.

Tie for Celler Honors
Telephones defeated the Wadhams Oil in two games, the Wadhams moving into a cellar tie with the Schlafers on the strength of their single win. Bob Kramhold blasted a 209 and 214 and a 568 series and Freddie Yelg a 210 and 543 series for the Oils. Roy McCallum had a 215 game and 560 series and Briske a 511 series for the Phones.

In the other match Fox River was whitewashed by the Appleton Machine team. Roy Reinke shot a 239 for the losers while Jerry Oswalt showed a 223 and 579 and Rowan a 194 and 540 series for the Machines.

Dean Stands to Win $20,000 in Golf Meet

Sarasota, Fla. —(AP)—Dizzy Dean said winning the third annual baseball players golf tournament opening here today would make him $20,000 richer.

He said he had laid a $1,000 bet, at 20 to 1 odds, he could capture the match play event.

Those knowing the links ability of the various baseball stars wintering in Florida were inclined to think "Ole Diz" would have to play over his head to defeat such colts as Garland Braxton of Indianapolis, Paul Waner of Pittsburgh, Paul Derringer of Cincinnati and Wes Ferrell of Washington.

Their friends in that order last year finished Sam Byrd, who since has turned professional.

After two 18-hole qualifying rounds today and tomorrow, the 30 or more players entered will meet in match play Saturday and Sunday.

DIMAGGIO STARTS PARTY ROUNDS

Notes from Werner Witte's minutes of the National Federation of High Schools' interscholastic football committee meeting:

Six-man football is growing rapidly but has been handicapped by lack of a regular set of rules. The national federation will attempt to supply the need.

Twenty states having 10,000 high schools now are members of the federation.

If, during any kick there is a foul between the time the ball is kicked and the time it is touched by the receivers, the penalty for the foul shall be the usual distance penalty from the previous spot (instead of loss of the ball at the spot of the foul).

The illegal shift penalty will be changed from 15 to 5 yards, the same as for back in motion.

A minor incompleteness of a forward pass cannot result in a touch-back except on fourth down.

Major changes in the 1937 rules were very well-received by coaches. Indications are the high schools may change the rules to bring back field goal and drop kicking by admitting that kicking rules for adults are pretty much of a handicap for high school boys.

I don't know, but perhaps the reason we didn't get the score of that Appleton-Green bay hockey game on Sunday was that it was 12 to 1 for Green Bay. Leichter had scored the only Appleton marker.

The Miller High Life team of Kimberly is leading teams in the Valley bowling meet at Fond du Lac with a 2,777. J. Weyenberg rolled a 618 while Stuyvenberg showed a 616.

Kay Rogers has the best free throw percentage on the Terror cage squad, 700, or seven throws in ten trials. Powers is next with five in eight trials. Rogers improved his rating last week against Oshkosh when he collected five points via free throws. On one occasion he was treated rather badly and dumped hard on the floor, got up and tossed two out of three. It happened that the Oshkosh lad who fouled him became irked at being called and had a technical hung on him so Kay took three in a row. He missed the last one.

A letter from C. H. Wileman at Brillion corrects our standings on the Little Nine Eastern division. Brillion has won two games; we had it credited with only one.

Kimberly A. A. Cagers Boasting of Record

KIMBERLY — Advance ticket sale for Sunday's basketball game between the Kimberly A. A. cagers and the Milwaukee Negro Panthers indicate a sellout. The game will start at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. The Negro team has promised the A's plenty of opposition for it is coming to Kimberly prepared to play basketball for all it is worth.

The invaders have won a 123 games within the last three years. Besides demonstrating the hidden ball play and many trick shots, the Panthers will try to hold the ball from Kimberly for three minutes.

Walford, a guard, the ace shot of the Negro team, has averaged 19 points in the last 25 games. Similarly, the center, is well over six feet. Others on the team are: Britton, Smith, Martin, Lewis, Clemmons, and C. Schubert, manager.

Coach Elmer Vander Velden has not announced his starting lineup but it is expected he will show: LeMay, Hofkins, Bowman, Chub Vander Velden, Joe and Norb Gossens and Paul Albers in the game.

Reviewing the Kimberly record of nine wins shows Papermakers have taken all games by large scores. In the two Portage tangles they scored 71 points to opponents' fifty five; the two Briderers games netted the Papermakers 82 points to 52 for opponents. When the Green Bay A. A. came to Kimberly fans predicted a tough battle but like other games it was a one-sided match as Kimberly piled up 46 points to the Bays' 23.

Chilton likewise received a one-sided reception when it failed to cop with 23 points to Kimberly's 59. The Mellow Brews of Kaukauna were no match for Kimberly in an earlier game when the score was 53 to 22.

New Year's day the A's played their old rivals, the Fox River cagers of Appleton. Kimberly also mastered this game with ease as it came out in front with a score of 33 to 26. The latest win was over Elkhart Lake Sunday evening when Kimberly scored its ninth victory, 44 to 34. In that tangle the Papermakers were slow in getting started but showed plenty of team work and action in the last half.

With the nine wins all tucked away the A's must continue to get opposition outside of the valley if they are to give fans plenty of action and fast games. The next big meet being considered by George McElroy, hooking agent is with Olson's All-American Redheaded Girls, world champions. Lila Blue, a member of the team, showed at the clubhouse a few years back with the Baby Ruth girls.

Annual Baseball Troubles In Full Swing as Players Refuse to Sign Contracts

Even Dizzy Dean's perennial salary troubles can't top the complaints of Joe Medwick, Van Lingle Mungo, Paul Warner and Paul Derringer.

American league teams are in for some argument, too. Wes Ferrell, Washington pitcher who winters at Sarasota, objected to a $3,000 salary cut. Russell Van Atta, spending the off-season here, returned his contract to the St. Louis Browns unsigned because he said he could not agree to some provisions having nothing to do with salary.

Expected Reduction Dean's situation is unique, for him. Usually he demands a raise. But 1937 "Old Diz" admitted himself a reduction was in order. Even at that, the $10,000 pay check St. Louis offered almost floored the pitcher.

He said it represented a $15,500 slash. Dizzy stopped pumping gas at his Bradenton filling station to say he thought $17,500 would be about the right price.

Russell Van Atta, spending the off-season here, returned his contract to the St. Louis Browns unsigned because he said he could not agree to some provisions having nothing to do with salary.

Expected Reduction Dean's situation is unique, for him. Usually he demands a raise. But 1937 "Old Diz" admitted himself a reduction was in order. Even at that, the $10,000 pay check St. Louis offered almost floored the pitcher.

He said it represented a $15,500 slash. Dizzy stopped pumping gas at his Bradenton filling station to say he thought $17,500 would be about the right price.

At Sarasota, Waner intimated he thought the contract Pittsburgh sent him was more in line for a "two-for-a-nickel-bum" than for one of the leading left-handed hitters in the league.

Even Dizzy Dean's perennial salary troubles can't top the complaints of Joe Medwick, Van Lingle Mungo, Paul Warner and Paul Derringer.

FRIDAY'S GAMES
Oshkosh St. Mary at St. Norbert.

St. Peter at St. Mary, Menasha.

MENASHA — The Zephyrs of St. Mary High school will seek their fourth successive victory in the Fox Valley Catholic conference at St. Mary gym Friday night against the St. Peter team of Oshkosh. The game will be called at 8:15.

The Zephyrs, who have overpowered their three previous conference opponents, rank odds-on favorites to defeat the Keymen who have not won a conference engagement in four starts. However, the game may not be a rout as the St. Peter team has lost games by close scores.

The Keymen have put in two weeks of intensive drill since the Christmas holidays and expect to be in good condition for the battle tomorrow evening.

The Zephyrs have indicated a tendency to be erratic. It has taken them at least a quarter to settle down to fast basketball in each of their conference games. Particularly in the game against St. Mary of Oshkosh, the Zephyrs showed lapses in team play and passing.

Coach John Muraski probably will start his usual lineup with Busha and Schneider at forwards, Sitsberger at center and Retell and Russ Meier in the back court. Oshkosh may see action are Schraa, Morrell, B. Meier, Meixl, Lange and Robi.

For St. Mary the starters are likely to be unknown until the last minutes as the players continue their battles for positions. Rumschke at center, Resch and Rummek at guards, the forward line, which has been weak in scoring, is most in question. Laux and Griesbach probably will start but should that combination fail to click Hopfensperger and Will may get in at the forwards with Hoks either at center or forward.

Definitely, his purpose now is development of playing material, rather than the purchase of established stars. However, he's in the market for players, and he figures in Mungo and first baseman Buddy Hassett he has two aces with which to lead.

"But we're open to trades only on condition we get players," and "Several clubs have bid for Mungo. And I'm sure there are seven other clubs in the league who could use Hassett. But we have to get plenty."

With that in view, the Dodgers have turned down every bid so far for Mungo, including the recent offer of $75,000 cash and four players from the Chicago Cubs.

Aldermen Vote To Restore Part Of Salary Cuts

will become effective at the beginning of their next terms while all others will be in force on May 1. Benefiting from the raise besides firemen and policemen are the mayor, six aldermen, city clerk, city treasurer, city assessor, city engineer and commissioner of relief.

Accept Board Offer
Acceptance of the county board's $25,000 offer to help pay costs of paving in the Fourth ward was unanimously approved after Alderman Brautigam explained that no action would be taken until the board passes on the project at its March session.

Appleton originally asked the board for $50,000, half of a proposed $100,000 paving project on S. River street, John street, Fremont street and Kernan avenue. Supervisors cut the appropriation in half when they set their budget in November and the proposed paving project had to be halved accordingly.

Kernan avenue has been dropped from the plans and Fremont street will be paved only as far as the money will go. It is now proposed to spend only $50,000 and property owners will be assessed for half the usual amount if the board approves the project.

Amend Ordinance
An amendment to the "hit and run" section of the general city ordinances was passed. The amendment concerns a change in the penalty from $1,000 or two years in jail to $10 to $100 or 15 days to 3 months in jail. Because of the severe penalty of the old ordinance, autoists usually were charged with reckless driving and were fined under the state law, the state collecting the fine.

The bicycle ordinance, which has been before the council for the last three months, finally was ordered published last night and action on its passage is expected at the February meeting. The only change in the proposal is a reduction in the registration fee from 25 cents to 15 cents per year.

Willard Schenck, 200 W. College avenue, was awarded the contract to audit the books of the city clerk and city treasurer for 1937. His bid was $360.

6 Cents Per Mile
Aldermen unanimously passed a resolution to allow city officials six cents per mile when traveling on city business. The matter was not discussed on the floor and was a recommendation of the finance committee.

The council authorized the city clerk to advertise for two new squad cars for the police department. The old cars, which were purchased two years ago, are to be used in trade.

Installation of street lights at four intersections was approved by the council. The intersections are: Alice and Drew streets, S. Lee and Candee streets, W. Commercial street and Badger avenue, and Parkway boulevard and Richmond street. Action on installation of a light at the intersection of W. Harris and Douglas streets was deferred.

Order Signs
Aldermen authorized the clerk to order 25 90-minute parking signs from the state prison at Waupun. The restricted parking area on the west side of Allen street was changed to the east side and the signs were ordered changed.

Sanitary sewer projects on two streets were approved with the stipulation that they be installed with relief labor. One of the projects will be on W. Roosevelt street from Clark street west about 210 feet and the other will be on Carpenter street from S. River street to Harrison street.

Licenses were granted to the following: Alvin B. Thies, 233 W. College avenue, tavern license; Paul Reischbach, 118 W. College avenue, pharmacist permit; Eagles Bowling alley, license to operate. Application of Marilyn V. Zuchlik for an operator's license was rejected. An application for a junk dealer's license filed by J. P. Johnson was referred to the police and license committee.

Councilmen supported the recommendation of the board of public works that paving assessments for resurfacing W. College avenue from State street to the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks remain the same as fixed. A petition objecting to the assessments had been filed by property owners.

An application for a carnival license, filed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was referred to the police and license committee. The veterans expect to sponsor a carnival here June 16.

Mayor Goodland appointed Alderman Franke chairman of the rebate committee for the coming year. Other members appointed to the committee were Aldermen McGillan, Knuij, Grignon and Harman.

Propose Increase In City's Share of County Board Vote

county board and in that way give Appleton voters representation more nearly in proportion to the representation from other communities in the county. It has been pointed out that Appleton has approximately 45 per cent of the total population of the county, yet has only 15 per cent of the voting strength of the county board. An increase to 18 supervisors will give Appleton about 33 per cent of the vote on the board.

Supervisor For Each 1,000
Appleton is entitled by law to one supervisor for each 1,000 population and on that basis might send 25 supervisors to the county board by creating that many wards. Practical difficulties, however, stand in the way of setting up 25 wards, and after much study it was believed that 18 wards, with that many supervisors, would best serve the city. This will give the city one supervisor for about each 1,400 persons. The average number of voters for each supervisor from the rest of the county is 1,000.

At least a half dozen cities in Wisconsin have increased the number of their supervisors by increasing the number of wards in the last few years. Green Bay increased its wards from eight to twenty-two, Madison from ten to twenty, Fond du Lac from eight to twenty-one and Oshkosh from eight to sixteen. Manitowoc and Wausau, among other cities, now are considering sharp increases in the number of their wards in order to give the cities larger voting strength on their county boards.

The movement to give Appleton more supervisors is not of recent origin. Several times in the last ten or twelve years the matter was discussed but nothing was done about it. A year ago this winter and effort was made to have the legislature enact a law which would make it possible for cities to elect supervisors from supervisory districts, but the bill died in the legislature, due allegedly to opposition from the Wisconsin Association of County Boards. If this law had been enacted it would have been possible to increase city representation on the county board without disturbing ward lines and without changing the size of the council.

After the defeat in the legislature the proposition slumbered for a few months, but was revived last fall and a careful study was made to determine the best way to handle the situation. Two informal meetings of the sponsors were held with the city council to discuss the matter and it finally was decided to submit the proposition in the form of a petition for a referendum on a charter ordinance. This ordinance has been prepared and is made a part of the petition.

Money Element Is Factor in Safety Work, Club Is Told

Penalties Encourage Prevention of Industrial Accidents

Kaukauna—The most powerful factor in the reduction of accidents and the promotion of safety is the money element, G. S. Allen, Stevens Point insurance man, told the Kaukauna Rotary club yesterday at its noon meeting in Hotel Kaukauna.

"This is particularly true of industrial safety," Allen continued, "for here the employer is penalized in case of an accident to one of his employees, for his fine varies according to the safety precautions he has taken."

The Wisconsin Industrial commission has laid down the safety law in its publication "General Orders of Safety," Allen continued, and its order are enforceable by penalties. An employer who has installed all the latest safety devices and conforms to the commission's established standards for machines and premises will not pay as heavily in case of accidents as an employer who has neglected his safety preparations.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

QUIVERING nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky, and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs.

Don't let yourself "go" like that. Start taking a good, reliable tonic—one made especially for women. And could you ask for anything whose benefits have been better proved than world-famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Let the wholesome herbs and roots of Pinkham's Compound help Nature calm your shrieking nerves, tone up your system, and help lessen distress from female functional disorders.

More than a million women have written in letters reporting benefit from Pinkham's Compound—why not let it help you, too, to go "smiling thru" trying ordeals, as it has other grateful women for the past 3 generations. Make a note NOW, before you forget, to get a bottle of Pinkham's Compound today WITHOUT FAIL from your druggist.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor

Ithaca, N. Y.—Science now has solved the problem of which side of the bed to sleep on in the case of a Cornell professor.

In the winter the side of the bed facing the north wall of his home always has seemed colder than the other side. The north wall is cold, not so much because it faces north as because it faces outdoors.

His wife preferred the south side.

Then scientific study of radiation of walls showed the north side of the professor's bed actually was colder. Its heat radiated into the cold wall faster than the heat from the wife's side into the warmer wall.

Now, radiated heat is exactly like light, though it's invisible. It reflects from a polished surface just like light.

The professor hung a couple of sheets of aluminum foil between the bed and the cold wall. The foil is only about a thousandth of an inch thick, but it reflects the heat the professor loses right back at him. Now his side of the bed is as warm as the wife's.

Signers of the amendment are E. A. Killoren, president, and Lloyd Jack, secretary.

War veterans, Helble and Adjutant General Ralph M. Immell, Madison, will be other speakers while schools for officers will be introduced by Lawrence H. Smith, Racine, Gilman H. Stordock and James F. Burns, Milwaukee.

Senator F. Ryan Duffy may attend the conference Sunday.

Hair Dryer in Beauty Parlor Starts Fire

Firemen were called to the Appleton Beauty Saloon, 115 E. College avenue, at 6:50 last night when a hair dryer set fire to a leather chair. The cushion was burned. A call was answered at 6:45 in the evening to the Max Hoffman home, 1319 N. Division street when an oil burner in the basement flooded.

RESTORE STATUES

San Juan Capistrano, Calif.—Three images of saints which were installed in the old mission here the year the Declaration of Independence was signed have been restored to their pedestals. Toppled off, and broken by the earthquake of 1812, they lay in pieces until recently repaired by order of the Rev. Arthur J. Hutchinson, pastor.

GREATER SAVINGS-FINER SERVICE-COMMUNITY LOYALTY

To the basic Piggly Wiggly self-service idea, developed and refined through the intervening years, has been added one vitally important factor — HOME OWNERSHIP. The first Piggly Wiggly stores were intended as a chain. But TODAY, Piggly Wiggly are home-owned and operated. Through a national cooperative association, almost 400 owners bulk many of their purchases of merchandise that cannot be bought locally, and thus add to the savings that are passed on to customers. Thus, today, Piggly Wiggly, here as everywhere, offers the unique advantage of chain-economic, plus home-ownership. An important part of the local community — Piggly Wiggly is America's outstanding proof of the fact that private initiative and individuality need not fear monopolistic octopuses, but can and does bring greater savings, finer service and inspire community loyalty.

Poor Management Causes Failure of Farms, Club Told

Rotary Club Speaker Advises More Education Of Young Farmers

Neenah—Lack of good management is the real cause for the failure of farmers to succeed today, Eric W. Atkins, manager of the real estate department of the Equitable Reserve Association, told Kiwanians at a meeting Wednesday noon, when he advised more education and development of interest in farming for the young people.

"Farmers were caught in the race of changing times. Some of them were able to keep up, but the ones who couldn't failed because of poor management," Atkins said, and he told of cases in which farmers, deeply in debt, owned a truck, a tractor, and a car, but their livestock didn't have enough to eat.

"The right combination of brain and brawn is necessary for successful farming," he added, and that is the pressing requirement for young farmers. Agricultural colleges and 4-H clubs are doing a great deal in this line, the latter actually helping to put agriculture over, the Rotarians were told.

Atkins discussed the soil problem today, breeding, and the farmer's purchasing power in comparison with other years.

Purchasing Power Up
He explained that the farmers have no complaint to make relative to their purchasing power. The farmer's dollar in October, 1937, was worth 100 cents. It dropped a little, being worth 99 cents in November and 95 in December. In 1932, however, the farmer's dollar was worth only 64 cents. He listed the value of the farmer's dollar other years: 1913, 103 cents; 1920, 96 cents; 1929, 103 cents; 1930, 96 cents; 1931, 74 cents; 1935, 85 cents.

The increasing cost of labor, however, has curtailed the farmer's profits, he added.

Wisconsin and Winnebago county are being infested with a new weed, the creeping jenny, which is not a native of the state but which has been a curse to Minnesota and other states. Drastic operations are required to kill the weed, poison being the most effective, he said.

Gates urged the farmers to place their orders as soon as possible in order to insure having the men on the job when needed in the spring.

Menasha Library Averages 500 Books Daily for Year

Menasha—A typical day at Elisha D. Smith library, gleaned from the yearly summary of Miss Daisy Trilling, librarian, shows that the staff issued 500 books and returned as many to the shelves; that 114 people were given book or reference service; that 5.5 new books were selected, ordered, cataloged and prepared for circulation and that 15 books were cleaned or repaired for each of the 306 days of library service in the year.

Total book circulation for 1937 was 152,193. The figure is 3,655 less than in 1936. The decrease, though slight, reflects a trend noted in libraries throughout the country, according to the librarian. It has been variously ascribed to post depression re-employment, increased leisure time spending for movies and motoring and a tendency of the reading public toward more serious reading of a less voluminous nature than formerly.

No outstanding circulation trends were noticeable in the year except in current magazines loaned. The total for 1937 was 4,929, or 857 more than the previous high in 1936.

A comparison of the 1937 circulation figures with those of five years ago showed an increase of over 28 per cent. Increases in fine arts and foreign books were particularly noted, being nearly doubled in both cases.

Help For Schools
Numerous other services are offered by the library beside the mere insurance of books to adults. The library's service to the schools was represented by a circulation of 30,734 books through the St. John and Butte des Morts schools and the loan of 3,776 volumes to teachers for classroom use. The branch libraries are open one morning each week under the direction of Miss Ruth Comment, branch librarian.

In addition there is a children's room in the main library. Circulation in that department totaled 41,815 during 1937. The children's story hour on Saturday afternoons under the direction of Mrs. B. A. Berglund has proved a popular attraction among the youngsters. The hours were begun in October and will continue until April.

Special programs intended to interest children in the library were arranged for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year weeks. Average attendance has been 95 children. Good Book week activities were limited because the room was being used for classes much of the time.

Groups Use Building
Besides the regular meeting of high school classes, the library was used during the year by other groups, including vocational classes, Garden club, boy scouts, chess in foundry, Band Mothers club, Arm and Anvil club and the child health center.

Due to the completion of classrooms in the new high school building, classes at the library were discontinued at the Christmas holidays. Thus ended the main reading room for use by patrons at any time during the day from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 9 p.m.

The year also marked the beginning of a conscious effort on the part of the library administration and staff to analyze the library's service to the city. Departmentalization of staff work was an early step in that direction.

Reference Department
A formal reference department was established early in November with reference desk and books in the alcove at the right of the main entrance to the library. Reference work is under the direction of Miss Gladys Friday, who joined the staff in October.

Shelves constructed in one of the basement rooms will soon be ready to hold the large file of magazines owned by the library, as well as many other books which are causing a crowding condition in the main stock room.

The Menasha community forum was organized late in the year as a library-community project to provide an opportunity for all interested people in Menasha to enjoy a series of six free lectures by outstanding speakers on topics of special interest and educational value.

Chapter 54 Death Takes Honey

After Nina had been there a few minutes, her mother suddenly looked at her. She just raised her lids, as though she hadn't been sleeping at all, and said: "Hello — baby, ... quite wide awake."

"Darling ... hello, there."

Nina bent over and kissed her hand.

"Nina ... Honey looked around the darkened room without moving her head. Nothing about her moved, only her lips and her eyes. Her arms, on the coverlet, might have been marble arms placed there ... The rounded mound of her body, a dummy. "Nina ... I'm a little afraid. Am I—going?"

"Going?" Nina giggled, softly. "You mean — dying? Listen, pet, don't let on I told you, but all this is just a show. Dr. Fellows said, 'If we don't make your mother think she's frightfully ill, she'll never believe the way we want her to ... You're not in the least danger—really — but you'll only have another one of those hideously painful cramps if you don't stay quiet. You don't want that, do you?"

Honey whispered: "Hell — no," and her wide blue eyes twinkled for a minute. Nina thought that they looked unusually dark, and then she saw that the irises were quite enlarged.

"Be good, Honey lamb, and you'll be out in a couple of weeks." Honey didn't answer.

Then: "Richard? ... Do I look all right for him, baby?"

"Sweet, just pale enough to be interesting. You don't want to look buxom in bed, do you?"

Honey murmured: "I don't want to look — buxom, ever," and then she went to sleep again.

After a few more minutes, the nurse came back. She took Honey's pulse, and gave her an injection.

Nina whispered: "She talked a little."

The woman raised her eyebrows and nodded, and wrote something down on her chart, and lifted another chair to the bed, without making a sound.

Another long vigil. Sometimes you could hear a bell ringing—faintly—down on the first floor. Sometimes you could hear muffled footsteps in the hall outside, but for the most part there was nothing but an awful stillness — with Honey the very stillest of all.

"We've Separated"

She died at six o'clock. The attack had been too much of a strain.

Jersey Is Wall Street of Horse Gambling Business

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—Jersey City under the dictatorship is the home of the greatest gambling industry in the United States and perhaps the greatest, by volume, in the world—the horse bourse, in which enormous quantities of money are wagered on the races run at all the tracks in this country and Canada. The business is conducted over a system of wires leading to the tracks and to other horse rooms in many cities which stand in the same relation to Jersey City as minor exchanges and brokers' offices around the country stand to the New York stock exchange.

Jersey City is the Wall Street of the horse gambling business, with many offices in daily operation, and the pressure of money from the bourse is able to make and control prices almost instantaneously at horse parks thousands of miles away.

For example, if a Jersey City operator finds himself unable to lay off with other operators elsewhere a bet which he does not want to handle alone, he wires the track at which the race is being run, just before post time, dumps a load of money into the mutuel machines through an agent on the grounds and hammers down the odds so that his loss, if he should lose the bet, will be reduced to convenient size.

The man who is reputed to be the greatest single operator on the Jersey City exchange was once a waiter in New York but is now regarded as a millionaire. However, the business is not a monopoly, and many New York bookmakers' clerks find employment on the horse bourse during the months when the steeds are not running on the New York tracks. It is an illegal business, but clean by comparison with prostitution.

Existence Is Matter

Of Common Knowledge

The ramifications of the system are vast and mysterious, but its existence has been a matter of common knowledge in the sport business for years, and there is no doubting that the volume is such as to beggar the daily handle of such tracks as Hialeah, Narragansett and Santa Anita.

As much as it is a known fact, acknowledged by the horse business with criminal records and underworld connections are permitted to operate horse tracks, it is not unthinkable that some of the brokers holding seats on the Jersey City exchange may also be silent partners in some of the tracks. In that case they would possess a strong advantage over the customers who place bets with them.

In years past both St. Paul and Toledo were notorious havens for criminals who were permitted to rest and spend their money in those cities under police protection on condition that they refrain from professional operations. Jersey City offers similar hospitality to horse brokers who come properly sponsored, although, of course, there is no requirement that they cease operations. Driven out of other cities or harassed by unregulated executions and raids, they may settle down in Jersey City and do business in security and dignity, with profit to themselves and to those who guarantee their freedom from molestation.

It's Richest, Least

Triflesome of Buckets

The immensely of this phase of Jersey City's commercial life is so well known to politicians and persons in the gambling business that it seems frivolous to speculate on other sources from which some Jersey statesmen derive income obviously much in excess of their known pay.

The horse bourse is a protected racket handling millions of dollars, and it would not exist for an hour if the local administration were not interested in its preservation. In addition to the more obvious temptation of a percentage or a flat license fee there is also the interesting business chance provided by the landlord who rents office space to a member of the bourse at a rate roughly comparable to that charged in other cities for premises used as brothels. The landlord can afford to be liberal to the political leaders. Jersey City is rather proud of her reputation for cleanliness as regards commercialized vice. Her leaders are of the type who have an honest detestation for any man who would make a dollar off a woman, but even if they were less fastidious the vice racket would be hardly worth the bother with the horse racket so well organized and so lucrative.

Small Business Groups to Attend Capital Confabs

Richard was on one side of the bed, and Nina on the other. Honey just opened her blue eyes—suddenly, as she had when Nina was alone with her, and smiled at each of them in turn. The fingers of her two little plump, white hands uncurred, and she seemed to be trying to reach out to them.

They each took a hand "Richard... Nina," she whispered. "I think I'll go to sleep for a little while."

Richard said: "Do, my darling." And Nina said: "A good idea—lamb."

And then Dr. Fellows straightened up and took the stethoscope from his ears.

"It's all over, dear children," he said, and put his arm around Nina's shoulders.

Aunt Carrie Van Alstyne and Cordelia and Carl came back to the 4th street house with Nina and Richard, after they had left Honey's flower-banked grave in Woodlawn cemetery.

Cordelia said: "You'll be going back to the apartment tonight, won't you, Nina, dear?" And Carl said: "Like me to stay with you for a day or so, Richard?"

But Nina cut in:

"I'll be here, Carl, Cordelia... all of you. David isn't sick in bed. I only said that we've... we've separated. I didn't want to—upset anyone."

"Nina..."

"Oh, my poor child..."

She didn't really care—didn't really listen to what they said. As she said it now, out loud, in this house that was suddenly so lonely without Honey—it hurt her so, that she might have been reading David's note again, for the first time.

David and Nina had separated, and Honey was dead. There was nothing left in her life... absolutely nothing.

McDuff had sent round a special delivery letter the day before, and Nina had called him and asked him to take care of Button for a few more days. She would be back to get him, he said, and to see about storing her things after the funeral.

The letter had been from David... but it was only a check for $200 and a word to the effect that he would get in touch with her, presently. Not a word about Honey—although there had been articles in the paper about her death. Just the check and those three lines...

It had hurt, of course, but yesterday Nina had been in a sort of dazed state—saturated with grief, so that she was incapable of absorbing much more pain... But today was different.

"We've separated..." The words, the first time she had spoken them, stung her into a new, dreadful awareness of how true they were.

David was as lost to her as Honey, lying so peacefully out there under her masses of flowers.

Honey was as lost to her—as David.

She said: "Our lease is up next week. I'll go to the apartment tomorrow and make arrangements to store the furniture—or sell it or something. I'll just stay on here a while, I guess, until Richard and I decide about the house."

"I'll come and work with you, Nina, darling," said Cordelia quickly.

And Nina said: "Oh—will you?" a little vaguely... and hurried out of the room, because she found that she was beginning to cry.

Richard and Nina were alone that night for dinner.

When she came down the stairs, in her new plain black dress, he was waiting for her in the hall, and she saw that he looked older, and—worn, and that there was a sick look in his eyes.

She felt sorry for him.

"Nina..." he put his hand on the railing and looked up at her. "About David, I... I..."

"I know, Richard. I can see that you are really sorry, and it makes me want to be very fair with you. No matter what special thing brought it to a climax, it was as much my fault as yours. I realize that." She came on down and laid her hand on his arm for a moment.

"It's—done, now. Let's try and be thankful that if Honey had to go—she went while she was still happy... before she, too, was hurt, by us..."

They went in to the living-room, and Richard said: "But that's it, Nina, if I only could have worked to make her happy..."

And Nina thought: "Poor Richard... he's—moved, now. But he'll never be different. After me, there would have been someone else. He couldn't have made Honey happy, for long. It isn't in him." But she said:

"Oh, I don't know, Richard. I'm beginning to think that there's a certain amount of—paying up—to be done, for every wrong... even if people who haven't been involved have to do some of the paying... If she had lived, I'm afraid Honey would have had to... This way, it's just you and I... and David, for a while. She's... out of it."

"You're paying—heavily, poor little Nina."

"Yes, Yes, I am."

Just An Old Shoe-Tree

At the apartment, next day, Nina seemed to be surrounded by people who were joyful, but who were trying to hide it on account of her. Cordelia—so happy in her love for C. McDuff—quite swollen with pride because he had been promoted to one of the company's large apartment houses; the bride and groom, who stopped in, all thrilly and gassy; at first, before they knew, to measure the windows for curtains, and even poor darling Button, who was almost frantic with joy after he thought he had been forgotten...

Nina forced herself to work hard at the packing; the arrangements with the storage people. She tried not to remember; but with the disposal of each article of furniture—each everything, there would come to her something gay and amusing that David had said about it, or done to it.

The whole place was so full of him, that after Nina had packed her clothes and personal belongings, she could stand it no more.

"Finish the linen for me, will you, Cordelia, dear? I... I think I've had enough for today."

The professional packers would be in tomorrow. One day's work for them, and the movers would arrive on the following morning. Then it would be over. There would be nothing left of the home that Nina and David had worked over together.

Cordelia never asked what the trouble was. She wouldn't until Nina felt like telling her, if she ever did. But she must have suspected that Nina was pretty nearly broken over the separation; that David had been the one to go.

"What have you got there, Cordelia, dear?" Nina asked as she was leaving.

Her friend had something behind her back.

"Nothing, darling—I'm just clearing up. Run along, I'll be over presently..."

But Nina wanted to know. "Please, Cordelia..."

"It's nothing, dear... just an old shoe-tree..."

"Oh! Here, I'll take it..." Nina put out her hand, and then drew it back again. "No. Never mind. Just... throw it away..."

Richard makes his gentlemanly farewell speech, tomorrow.

Fox River Paper Company Bids on Patten Property

$89,000 Offer Is Sole Proposal at Sheriff's Sale
PLANS REVEALED
Old Mill Will Be Warehouse if Sale Is Confirmed

Probably the last chapter in the history of the Patten Paper company mill, one of the oldest in the valley, was written into the records this morning in the sheriff's sale in circuit court when the Fox River Paper company submitted a bid of $89,000 for the property on E. North Island street. It was the only bid received.

Arthur G. Wakeman, general manager of the Fox River Paper company, said today that if the purchase is approved by the court, his company will use the buildings on the Patten property for warehouses, sell the machinery, and use the water power in their present mills.

The purchase would include paper trademarks and patents. The addition of the waterpower owned by the Patten company would give the Fox River Paper company almost the entire river, Wakeman said.

The law firm of Bouck, Hilton, Kluwe and Dempsey, Oshkosh, presented the bid at this morning's sale. About 50 former Patten employees were present, seeking information on back pay owed them. Sheriff John Lappen said.

Wakeman said that Patten mill owned three-eighths of the river's waterpower, the Fox River Paper company from neighbors. "There is a very small amount going to one of the knitting mills," Wakeman stated.

The company was incorporated in 1882. The mill, employing about 110 men and women, was closed Sept. 1 of last year.

Attorney Paul V. Cary is trustee under a federal receivership. He was appointed in December of 1935. William H. Zuehlke held a state receivership for a short time.

The Fox River Paper company holds a $75,000 mortgage on the Patten property.

Beat Amendment
On Naval Funds

House Also Rejects Boileau Proposal to Build Bombing Planes

Washington—(AP)—The house beat down an attempt to prevent construction of the two new $70,000,000 battleships.

It rejected by a standing vote of 101 to 27 an amendment by Representative Boileau (D-Wis.) which would have cut from the $553,000,000 naval appropriation bill a $3,600,000 allotment to start work on the two new ships.

Earlier, the house rejected by a standing vote of 93 to 25 another Boileau amendment which would have diverted most of the battleship money to construction of new bombing planes.

Pounding the desk for emphasis, Boileau shouted the United States ought to "start hitting first," but battleships which he said soon would be rendered "useless" by modern aircraft. Asserting his airplane amendment would give the navy 41 more large bombing planes, 52 scout-bombers or 74 fighters, Boileau said they would be ready for action while "the keels of these battleships are laying around some navy yard."

Insurgents Waging Aerial Battles in Teruel District

Fascist Troops Reported Making Renewed Advances

Hendaye, France—(AP)—The Spanish insurgent army threw its aerial strength into the battle for Teruel today, after air raids on important government seaports which in two days brought death or injury to many hundreds.

The aerial maneuvers aided insurgent troops in fresh advances, which the Spanish government admitted included complete occupation of El Muelon hill on Teruel's western front, 160 miles to the west of Madrid.

More than 100 planes were in the air at one time during one of two great air battles over Teruel sectors yesterday.

Dispatches from insurgent sources asserted Generalissimo Franco's eastern column, having consolidated at Pedrazas plateau, was moving down the Alfranca river toward Tortosa.

Government controlled highways into Teruel, which the Madrid army captured in surprise attack a month ago, constantly were bombarded by insurgent artillery, according to the French frontier said.

14 Planes Shot Down
Ten insurgent and four government planes were shot down yesterday, the Madrid government's daily war bulletin asserted. It fixed casualties in two-day air raids at government bareedona at 138 dead and 200 wounded. Reports to the French frontier, however, said 300 persons were killed and 600 wounded.

Valencia and Tarragona also were bombed by insurgents, with widespread damage.

Madrid's War Minister Indalecio Prieto announced four British sailors were killed, seven wounded, two seriously, and three were missing after insurgent raiders attacked the British freighter Thorpe at Tarragona.

Damage to Barcelona and Valencia in Thursday's raids was less severe than on Wednesday, but the persistent attacks were seen as part of a coordinated insurgent plan to spread terror from the air before a large scale land attack on government strongholds.

Travelers arriving in France said lions of bombs were dropped onto a populous quarter of Barcelona.

Roosevelt Plan Wins Approval Of Auto Makers

Group in 'Hearty Agreement' Regarding Installment Selling

PROGRESS IS NOTED

President Says Atmosphere Being Cleared of Misunderstanding

Washington—(AP)—Leading automobile manufacturers announced after a White House conference today they were in "hearty agreement" with President Roosevelt's principles regarding installment selling of automobiles.

However, Alvan Macauley, president of the Automobile Manufacturers association, said "installment buying probably used" had and would continue to help millions of families raise their standard of living and also that it had helped and would continue to help increase employment.

Macauley, spokesman for the group that included manufacturers and automobile finance company heads, said all concurred in his statement. He said the group told the president they were "hopeful" a seasonal increase in sales in the spring will bring an improvement in business.

Pleased With Progress
Prior to the meeting with the automobile magnates, Mr. Roosevelt had told his press conference he believed his meetings with business men were progressing satisfactorily and clearing the atmosphere of misunderstanding.

Macauley said the automobile men would meet among themselves to try to work out some conclusions about reviving employment and discouraging high pressure selling.

President Roosevelt recently complained that auto dealers were over-selling the market by telling customers that prices were going up and also by granting more liberal credit terms.

Besides Macauley those conferring at the White House today were Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company; William S. Knudsen, president of the General Motors corporation; and K. T. Keller, president, and E. E. Hutchinson, vice president of the Chrysler corporation.

Finance Firms Represented
Also present were several finance company heads: John J. Schumann, Jr., president of the General Motors Acceptance corporation; Henry Hilsen, president of the Commercial Investment trust; A. E. Duncan, president of the Commercial Credit company; and Ernest Kandler, president of the Universal Credit company.

The business men with whom he talked today said, Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference, were learning, among other things, to see matters from a national point of view and were not concerning themselves only with their own separate problems.

Distinct progress was being made, he said.

Convict Slain in Attempt to Flee

8 Kansas Felons in Futile Dash to Escape In Fog

Lansing, Kans.—(AP)—A young life-term murderer lay dead in the Kansas prison morgue today, shot when eight convicts attempted to escape in a fog last night.

Another convict, shot in the abdomen, was not expected to live. A third was wounded slightly in the hip. The other five surrendered peacefully.

Cecil Thornburgh, 25, serving life for killing a county jail guard, was wounded fatally as he stood on a cell house and five others had scaled with the aid of long steel hooks.

Clifford Ottinger, 21, was critically wounded after he and a companion, Carnes Addington, had climbed a wire fence at the other end of the prison yard.

Ottinger and Addington, also 21, gave the signal for the break when they pulled the main light switch in the prison light plant, where they worked, and padlocked it. Addington was shot in the hip.

Thornburgh and the other men had tunneled from their cells into the basement of their cell block. There they cut window bars with a pipe-cutting, making a dash across the yard when the lights went out. Prison officials immediately cut in an emergency city electric inlet, flooding the yard with searchlights.

Warden Kirk Prather said the rest of the convicts, including 17 others in the power plant, made no attempt to escape.

Confesses He Forged And Cashed 15 Checks

Madison—(AP)—Edward C. Anderson, 45, Dane county relief department employee who had been missing since last August, surrendered today and pleaded guilty in superior court to charges of forging and cashing 15 checks totaling $900. Sentence was deferred.

Keeping a promise he made by telephone to E. C. Hein, relief director, Anderson returned from Chicago and reported at the county jail at 2 a. m. He admitted he used relief department equipment to prepare the checks.

Farmers in Fight For Right to Kill Crop-Eating Deer

Allegan, Mich.—(AP)—Farmers of Heath township prepared today to raise a "war chest" to finance their battle against crop-devouring deer herds and law enforcement officers who won't let them shoot the animals.

Three farmers who have ventured to shoot deer which they believed were destroying crops have been charged with violating the game laws and have been fined $50 and costs. Their cases are to be appealed to the circuit court.

The farmers are John Nyboer, Byron and Jerry Arndt. Farmers who met in Hamilton Thursday to discuss the situation considered the advisability of seeking court restraining orders against Conservation Officer Ray Potts and the county prosecutor.

Tax Program Is Given 'Qualified' O. K. at Hearing

Washington—(AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers, through H. Boardman Spaulding of New York, gave "qualified" approval today to the house ways and means committee's tax revision program.

The organization, he said, still opposes the principle of the undistributed profits tax. But the reduction of the "penalty levy" to a spread of 4 per cent, he added, "is a real improvement."

The revision plan contemplates removal of the undistributed profits tax from firms with incomes of $25,000 or less. They would pay a normal income tax of 12 1/2 to 1 1/2 per cent.

In general, corporations with incomes exceeding $25,000 would pay rates of 16 to 20 per cent, according to the portion of income distributed in dividends.

Without qualification, Spaulding endorsed the method of treating the smaller concerns.

Rates Added Levy
But he opposed imposition of an additional levy, above the 16 to 20 per cent rates, on closely held corporations.

Earlier the committee received a complaint that its revision program would be worse than the 1936 undistributed profits tax.

It came from E. H. Lane, Alta Vista, Va., head of the Lane Cedar Chest company.

Most witnesses have said the tax revision plan would be superior to existing law, but Lane asserted: "You fellows have been issuing statements to the press for the last two months telling us that you are going to relieve business of the inequities and injustices of the undistributed profits tax. Now you come back and propose to enact a bill that is worse than the other and will be even more harmful."

Tube in Throat Fails To Save Child's Life

Stevens Point—(AP)—Ronald J. Laszewski, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Laszewski of Plover, who since Sunday had been breathing through a tube inserted in an opening in his windpipe, died Thursday afternoon at St. Michael's hospital here.

He was rushed to the hospital in a critical condition Sunday afternoon suffering from an acute throat infection. Following an illness of 24 hours at home, the boy had been able to breathe only in gasps and the tube was inserted to make it possible for him to continue breathing.

Government Changes To Be Effective Feb. 1

Madison—(AP)—Eleven transfers of state government functions, recently approved by the legislative reorganization committee, will become effective Feb. 1 through executive orders issued by Governor LaFollette. The governor sponsored the changes.

Principal transfers will make the tax commission, instead of the treasury department, responsible for collection of gasoline taxes and jurisdiction over all tuberculosis sanatoria and state aids formerly administered by the board of control.

Senate Night Sessions Will Start Monday

Barkley Serves Notice of Move to Put End to Filibuster

ACTION NECESSARY

Points to Rapid Accumulation of Bills in Upper House

Washington—(AP)—Democratic Leader Barkley served notice in the senate today that he would call for night sessions beginning Monday in an effort to break the filibuster against the anti-lynching bill.

Barkley took the floor at the outset of today's session, the fourteenth which the senate has devoted to the anti-lynching bill, to warn that disposition must be made of the pending bill.

Barkley did not urge the senate either to pass or reject the anti-lynching measure, merely declaring that he wanted it out of the way.

But despite his statements, the filibuster went on.

Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) started a speech against the measure with the assertion that he was willing to speak "30 days or 60 days or longer" to "defeat this unthinkable, un-American and undemocratic piece of legislation." He said he once talked 10 hours a day for six months and was ready to do it again.

Agreement on the administration's housing bill by a senate-house committee broke today the three-week deadlock that has held up congressional approval of measures passed at the recent special session.

The conference committee eliminated a senate amendment to require payment of prevailing wages for construction of homes financed under the program.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) author of the amendment, said he would try to reinstate it when the senate votes on approving the compromise bill. Powerful labor forces supported the prevailing wage requirement.

Administration supporters have expressed hope the measure will go far toward reviving the lagging construction industry, for it is designed to encourage private investment in housing.

Reach Agreement On Granary Plan

Joint Congressional Group In Accord on 'Major Details'

Washington—(AP)—Chairman Smith (D-S. C.) reported agreement today by a joint congressional committee on "all major details" of an ever-normal granary program.

"We have wound up everything except minor details and they do not amount to much," he said.

The house-senate committee has been busy since Jan. 3 trying to draft a single bill from the separate granary measures passed by the house and senate at the special session.

Smith said the committee probably would have a bill ready for final congressional action "next Thursday or Friday."

"We should reach a final agreement Monday or Tuesday," Smith said. "Then it will take a couple of days to have this printed for presentation first in the house."

Smith said the conferees had agreed to rewrite the controverted "day-livestock" amendment, inserted in both bills in an attempt to protect present dairy and livestock areas from competition by farmers who take acres out of cultivation.

"This provision will be modified," Smith said, "to permit a farmer to use diverted acreage for stock and poultry ordinarily produced on his farm. That will not interfere with present dairy and livestock producers."

Crew of Captured U. S. Vessel to Be Released

Houston Texas—(AP)—The crew of the Nantucket Chief, American tanker reported seized by Spanish insurgents, is safe and is expected to be released within two or three days, officials of the company operating the ship said here today.

Custom Agents Probe Alleged Plot To Blow Up Jap Liner; Find Bomb

Seattle—(AP)—Customs agents investigating an asserted plot to blow up the Japanese liner Hiye Maru announced today a bomb had been fished from Elliott bay near the spot where the ship had been moored.

The recovered article was brought for examination to the Great North-erndock, under which one man lost his life and another fell into police hands, after failure of an alleged attempt to plant the explosive aboard the vessel.

Police Captain Marshall Sraford said George Partidge, 22-year-old Canadian, reported "orientals" had employed him and Rolphe M. Forsyth, school teacher of Vancouver, B. C., to dynamite the ships. He said he did not know the nationality of the "orientals."

Forsyth drowned in an attempt, Partidge said, to blow up the Japanese liner Hiye Maru, first objective of the plot.

Recover $30,000 More Ransom Money; Find Bodies of Missing Men

Suspect Kidnapers Received Local Aid In Ross Abduction

Sheriff Believes Victim Was Chained in Hole While Alive

Spooner, Wis.—(AP)—Washburn county authorities speculated today on the possibility that local assistance was furnished to the kidnapers and slayers of Charles S. Ross in the construction of the vault-like tomb in which the bodies of Ross and Atwood Gray, kidnapers' accomplices, were found in cut-over forest land 16 miles northwest of here last night.

A party of federal bureau of investigation agents accompanied by Sheriff Robert Willis travelled by horseback four miles into the woods from the 14nd lake highway to find the body of Ross, wealthy Chicagoan kidnaped last October.

The discovery party followed directions issued by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, as part of the developments surrounding his investigation of Peter Anders, confessed kidnaper and slayer of the aged Ross. Anders was kept under heavy guard at St. Paul today where he was returned after leading the searching party to the tomb.

Official suspicions as to the possibility that Anders received assistance in entombing Ross were roused here by closer examination of the lonely forest hiding place, which appears to have been a constructed vault rather than a natural cave.

Sheriff Willis said the hole was 6 feet deep, 8 feet long and 5 feet wide. He said it had been dug by hand and lined by two-by-eight timbers, milled planking which apparently had been sawn on a portable mill. The boards were 4 feet in length, Willis said.

Body Not Chained
Through an imbedded 8-inch timber, the sheriff said, an eyebolt had been securely fastened. Attached to the bolt was a length of chain to which Ross apparently had been fastened, although the body was not chained when discovered.

The roof of the chamber, Willis said, consisted of 2-by-8 timbers laid flush with ground and spiked down. In this roof was a trapdoor.

Strewn over the roof, as the sheriff described it, were 6 to 8 inch birch logs and over these piles of slashings. The sheriff said no one would have discovered the tomb if food was found in the vault, but that beside the bodies were a hammer, fountain pen, and oil tins.

Sheriff Willis said: "I think Ross was chained in that hole alive. He was not chained when we found him."

The sheriff said a cursory examination of Ross' body did not disclose gunshot wounds. Hoover said Anders confessed he shot the elderly Chicagoan in the head. The sheriff said Gray was shot in the head, Gray, whom Anders confessed to have shot in an argument over the disposal of the $50,000 ransom money, lay alongside Ross in the hole. Both bodies were badly decomposed.

Michigan Readied for $10,000,000 Deficit

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Budget Director Harold D. Smith gave warning today that Michigan's income might fall $10,000,000 short of meeting expenditures.

With the budget already far out of balance, he told of mounting welfare needs and shrinking state revenues. He said he planned a new inventory of the state's fiscal position in late February or early March which would show the extent of the emergency.

Smith said the business recession, its attendant unemployment, and reduced income from the sales tax and liquor sales were responsible for the disjointed financial picture. The 1937 legislature appropriated $18,000,000 more than the anticipated income, and left to Governor Frank Murphy the task of balancing the budget.

The governor and Smith reduced the pledged expenditures drastically, and announced they had brought the budget within $3,000,000 of being balanced before the recession developed.

Declares 1937 Housing Acts Constitutional

Madison—(AP)—Attorney General O. S. Loomis advised Governor LaFollette today the housing acts passed by the 1937 legislature are constitutional.

There is nothing in the legislation which violates the rule of uniformity in taxation, but no housing projects can be started in any city without approval of the city council, the attorney general said.

He held the legislature had power to provide that housing projects undertaken by proper authorities shall be exempt from taxation but pointed out the law permits charges to be made for municipal services in lieu of taxes.

The state legislation is not in conflict with the federal housing law, Loomis said.

NAMED TO SENATE

John Millon of Jersey City, long a close friend of Mayor Frank Hague, has been appointed United States senator from New Jersey, to fill the seat vacated by Governor A. Harry Moore.

Federal Gasoline Price-Fixing Case Is Given to Jurors

Judge Stone Grants Directed Verdicts for 2 More Defendants

Madison—(AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone sent the government's anti-trust case against 16 major oil companies and 30 of their officials to the jury at 1:33 p. m. today.

Madison—(AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone began his charge to the jury today in the government's gasoline price-fixing case against major oil companies after he had released two more individual defendants.

Judge Stone indicated the reading of his instructions would require close to two hours, that the jury then would be dismissed for lunch and would return to the courtroom around 3 o'clock p. m. to start its deliberations.

The court granted directed verdicts of acquittal for Fred L. Koopman, Bartlesville, Okla., vice president in charge of purchases for Phillips Petroleum company, and L. T. Cramer, Ponca City, Okla., tank car buyer for Continental Oil company.

The fate of remaining defendants—16 companies and 30 of their executives and employees—was to rest with the jury. During the four months of the anti-trust trial Judge Stone, from time to time, has dismissed 7 corporations and 16 individuals.

3 Principal Points
As to the dispute between the government and defense attorneys on major phases of the momentous case, the court gave the jury instructions on three principal points.

These dealt with the gasoline price rise in the midwest starting early in 1935 and the causes for it, the issue of legal authority granted under the old NRA oil code for stabilizing activities, and the form of the indictment, which the defense claims is faulty.

In discussing prices, Judge Stone read the Sherman anti-trust act and advised the jury that to declare a violation of that act, it would have to find that the defendants combined for an illegal purpose and that they controlled the major part of the oil trade.

He stated pointedly that unless the jury finds the price increase, which began in March, 1935, was caused by an unlawful agreement among the defendant companies, it must acquit them.

Deny Agreement
The companies have denied there was any agreement. Although they admitted extensive buying of surplus gasoline from independent refineries, they contended that various factors, such as laws controlling the movement of "hot oil" affected the price structure.

Judge Stone discussed at length the issue of the NRA petroleum code—a major bone of contention between the prosecution and the defense.

Progressive Group to Convene at Madison

Madison—(AP)—The state Farmer-Labor Progressive Federation will hold a state wide conference here tomorrow for discussion of economic and political questions as a guide to the state convention in June. Leaders said 60 delegates will attend.

One principal question to be discussed is whether the federation will accept memberships on a group representation plan or only on an individual basis. At present federation members from the nine groups represented hold individual cards.

Anders Admits Kidnapings, Killings and Bank Holdups GIVES FULL DETAILS

Bodies of Ross and Gray Found in Wisconsin Woods

Spooner, Wis.—(AP)—Harry Dahl, Washburn county coroner late today said Charles S. Ross, slain Chicago kidnap victim, whose body was found in an isolated dug-out 12 miles northwest of here late yesterday, apparently died from a fractured skull.

St. Paul—(AP)—An amazing story of kidnapings, slayings and bank robberies credited by J. Edgar Hoover, federal bureau of investigation chief, to Peter Anders was related here early today following recovery of $30,000 more of the $50,000 Charles S. Ross kidnap loot and the bodies of Ross and James Atwood Gray, Anders' accomplice.

Whisking Anders back to St. Paul after a tortuous two-day foray into the Minnesota and Wisconsin north woods, Hoover graphically described the criminal career of the stocky, former Pacific northwest lumberjack, adding that the prisoner had detailed each crime in a confession covering thousands of words.

An unverified report today stated Anders grappled with one of his guards late yesterday as the searching party neared the hideout containing the two bodies.

Struck Officer
At Spooner, Wis., Nystrom, brother-in-law of Coroner H. Dahl of Washburn county, was quoted as saying he was told about the fracas by one of the federal men. His version was that Anders was removed from the handcuffs were removed from Anders to facilitate the search and that the prisoner struck one of his captors, knocking him to the ground. Anders then was subdued by other agents.

Another angle today was disclosure that preliminary examination of Ross' body failed to reveal the wound from the bullet which Anders said he fired into the elderly man's head. An autopsy was being performed today by Coroner Dahl and a physician sent here from St. Paul by the F.B.I.

Edward P. Guinn, in charge of the F.B.I. office here, refused to answer questions about the case today and asked newsmen to leave the office saying there would be no further announcement before "later today."

Questions he declined to answer concerned the previous records of Anders and Gray; Anders' movements between the kidnapping of Olivia Borcia of Chicago, later releasing her without collecting ransom, and committing one Minnesota and three Wisconsin bank robberies.

Bodies in Cave
The bodies of Ross and Gray were found just before dark Thursday in a small, brush concealed cave in a desolate section of the Wisconsin woods, about 12 miles northwest of Spooner. Hoover said Anders shot Gray to death during a quarrel after the $50,000 ransom had been collected last October and that Anders then killed the elderly Ross.

The F.B.I. chief, detailing the search for ransom loot and the bodies, said the trail led beyond St. Cloud, Minn., about 10 miles north of here, where Anders was taken on the arrival here by plane late today.

Would Cut Relief Costs by Building Homes for Jobless

New York—(AP)—William Fox, chief engineer of the Los Angeles county regional planning commission, told the American Society of Civil Engineers yesterday relief expenses can be cut by building small homes at public expense for unemployed.

In Los Angeles, he said, such
